*In one sense
there is no death.
The life of a soul
on earth lasts
beyond his departure.
You will always feel that life touching yours,
that voice
speaking to you,
that spirit looking out of other eyes,
talking to you in the familiar things he touched, worked with, loved
as familiar friends.
He lives on in your life and in the lives of all others that knew him.*

In Memory of Mr. Lester D. Harris

A tragedy struck when Mr. Lester D. Harris, Principal, succumbed to a sudden heart attack last February. Even though we lost a dedicated leader and a great man, Mr. Harris will always be remembered for his warm quiet manner and the method by which he dealt with students and faculty.

Mr. Harris was born and reared on a large ranch in Washington. He was a teacher at Bend, Oregon before coming to Medford in 1944. Throughout these 20 years of service in Medford he was active in community affairs. He participated as an elder in the First Presbyterian Church and was president of the Secondary School Principals Association of Oregon.

Because he grew up on a ranch Mr. Harris loved the outdoors. In younger years he hiked and rode horseback. In recent years he enjoyed hunting and fishing. But most of all, Mr. Harris loved to work in his garden. He once remarked, "I love to watch things grow." How true this was! Mr. Harris loved to watch our high school grow. Like a flower our school blossomed during the 20 years of his leadership. It will keep growing. It is to the memory of Mr. Lester D. Harris that we dedicate the Crater of 1965.

*Offering a bit of a challenge, the beckoning of a new school year presents new forms, new faces, new ideas. Images appearing at a distance, hunger to become acquainted with new fresh minds — strive to become absorbed — to adopt a meaning.
The new challenges come with much question—*

the strangeness of the classroom uniting at assemblies — the awe at the first real chaos of the year.

A common ground is found and activities commence.

*But — realizing a purpose, fresh minds strive for knowledge and new understandings—
asking in their minds, answers are sought and found through tedious concentration and effort.*

Some answers are found through everyday communication with classmates—

while others are sought outside of the regular academic world.

Minds are cleared to start the search for security and attention.

Explosions of concentration burst forth in pulses of frivolity and joy,

*and then comes the time
for contemplation and planning—the planning for the image of the future.*

EDFORD SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

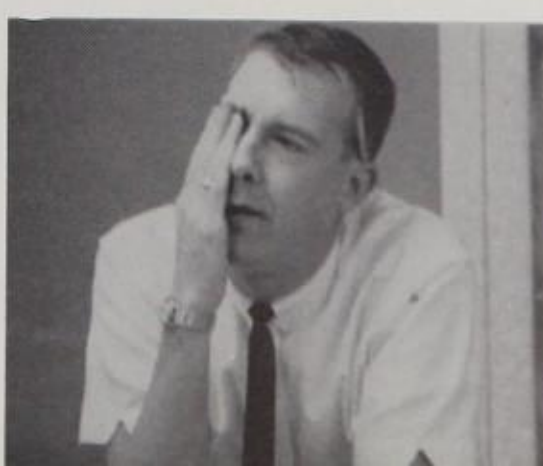

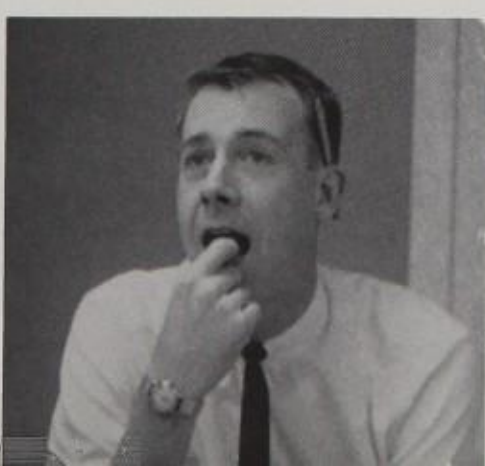

Administration and Faculty

Directing students to the fulfillment of their purpose are the ever dedicated teachers, administrators and supervisors. Standing by, always ready to help, these people form the mold of the educational system by which each student is educated.

Administration

Determines School Policies

Dr. Leonard B. Mayfield provided dynamic educational leadership to the Medford school district for the past ten years. His efforts played a major role in maintaining the stature of the Medford School district as one of Oregon's best. He was on sick leave several months before his death in April, 1965.

One of the highlights of his career here was his selection to participate in a six weeks tour of Russia under the direction of the U. S. State Department in the fall of 1959. Dr. Mayfield served as chairman of the State Textbook Commission during the year and his commission had the responsibility of selecting textbooks for all Oregon schools. He was the past president of the Oregon Association of School Administrators and had a strong record of leadership and accomplishments in many civic, service, and fraternal organizations.

Dr. Elliott D. Becken has served for many years as assistant superintendent for instruction and has served out the past school year as Acting Superintendent in view of the superintendent's absence on sick leave and subsequent death. He has been directly responsible for school curriculum, professional personnel, and certain assigned public relations activities. His work in the area of curriculum and instruction was recognized with his election as the first state chairman of the Oregon Council for Curriculum and Instruction, which was initiated one year ago by the state Board of Education. He has been active in community affairs — particularly those relating to the United Crusade with its significance to youth and welfare activities in the home community.

Dr. Leonard B. Mayfield

Mr. J. Russell Acheson has the responsibility of directing all maintenance activities within the school district as would relate to all school buildings and grounds. In addition, he is responsible for school transportation and cafeteria operations.

School Board Members

Make District Policies

Mr. William Barker has served as chairman of the school board for the second time, giving outstanding service to the Medford schools. Mr. Barker owns and operates Barker's Men's Store.

Dr. David Boals, Vice-chairman of the board, is an interested and well informed member of the school board. Dr. Boals served previously as a board member in a suburban Portland school district. He is an anesthesiologist.

Mr. John Reid is a former member of the Eagle Point school board and also a past president of the Jackson County School Board Association. He owns and operates Hubbard-Wray Machinery Company.

Serving for the third year, Mrs. Carroll Hauptert lent her feminine point of view. Mrs. Hauptert has been a very dedicated member who has worked closely with both administration and teachers.

Serving for their first year were Dr. Billy Blackstone, dentist, and Mr. Wayne Wakefield, who owns Wakefield's Drapery Store.

Mr. Frank Bash, past chairman of the board, has offered years of service to Medford. Mr. Bash is a vice-president with Pacific Power and Light Company.

Mr. Wilson Slater as clerk of School District 549-C disperses all funds for the district. Among his other responsibilities, he serves as clerk of the school board and takes charge of the budget.

Mr. John Reid

Mr. Frank Bash

Mr. McDonald

Serves as Acting Principal

Mr. Alex McDonald, former Dean of Boys, became acting principal after the death of Mr. Harris in February.

Facing this difficult task, Mr. McDonald combined responsibility with authority to handle the remaining duties that confronted Medford High School. Some of these duties included: the supervision of classroom teaching and the supervision of classroom equipment; student discipline, and the supervision of cafeteria duty and of custodians.

Being in direct contact with the superintendent, Mr. McDonald directed policies that related to school finance and public relation.

Mr. McDonald has always led an active life. He has played four years of professional baseball, served as a deck officer on a naval transport during World War II.

Miss Kirtley

Offers Assistance

Miss Kirtley, Vice Principal, often looked on the bright side of her most tedious and distasteful duties. For instance, she brightened up cafeteria duty by comparing it to heaven. "If cafeteria duty is anything like heaven, I think I will make it." Throughout the year she has patiently given her help and advice to the faculty and students. Solutions to the many problems that occurred in the course of the year were made possible through her knowledge and experience.

Miss Kirtley was indispensable during the year performing duties that were essential to the smooth running of the school. She handled student records and IBM, took care of girls discipline, honor roll, graduation requirements, and directed counseling and the signing of transcripts. She also contributed her advice and service to school dances, daily announcements, and follow up studies.

Mr. William Ruck
Administrative Assistant

Mr. Bill Ruck, who had previously served as combination scholarship director at MHS and as Oregon program director for the school district, was drafted into service in the school district administration staff as administrative assistant following Dr. Mayfield's departure on leave of absence. In this capacity, he has continued to serve as Oregon program director, which utilizes a large foundation grant to the school district in affecting improved instructional methods through new technologies in education.

Mr. Robert Huff has taken over the job as scholarship chairman this year in addition to being the homeroom program director. Among his other duties he has organized the Lester D. Harris Memorial scholarship fund.

Not only does Mr. Irv Mirick direct the high school band, but is also the instrumental music supervisor of the Medford School District.

Mr. Lee Ragsdale is director of health, physical, and recreational education activities for the Medford schools. He is credited with much of the success of Medford's physical education and sports activities.

Directing the food angle of the public schools is Mrs. Virginia Wait. She supervises all Medford school cafeteria menus and trains cafeteria employees. Along with these duties she also makes up the master menus for school lunches and is the main reason behind success of MHS's a la carte and plate lunch program.

Supervisors Insure Perfection in Various Fields

Dr. Justin Dyrud heads all the vocal music departments in district 549C and maintains harmony throughout each of the various schools involved.

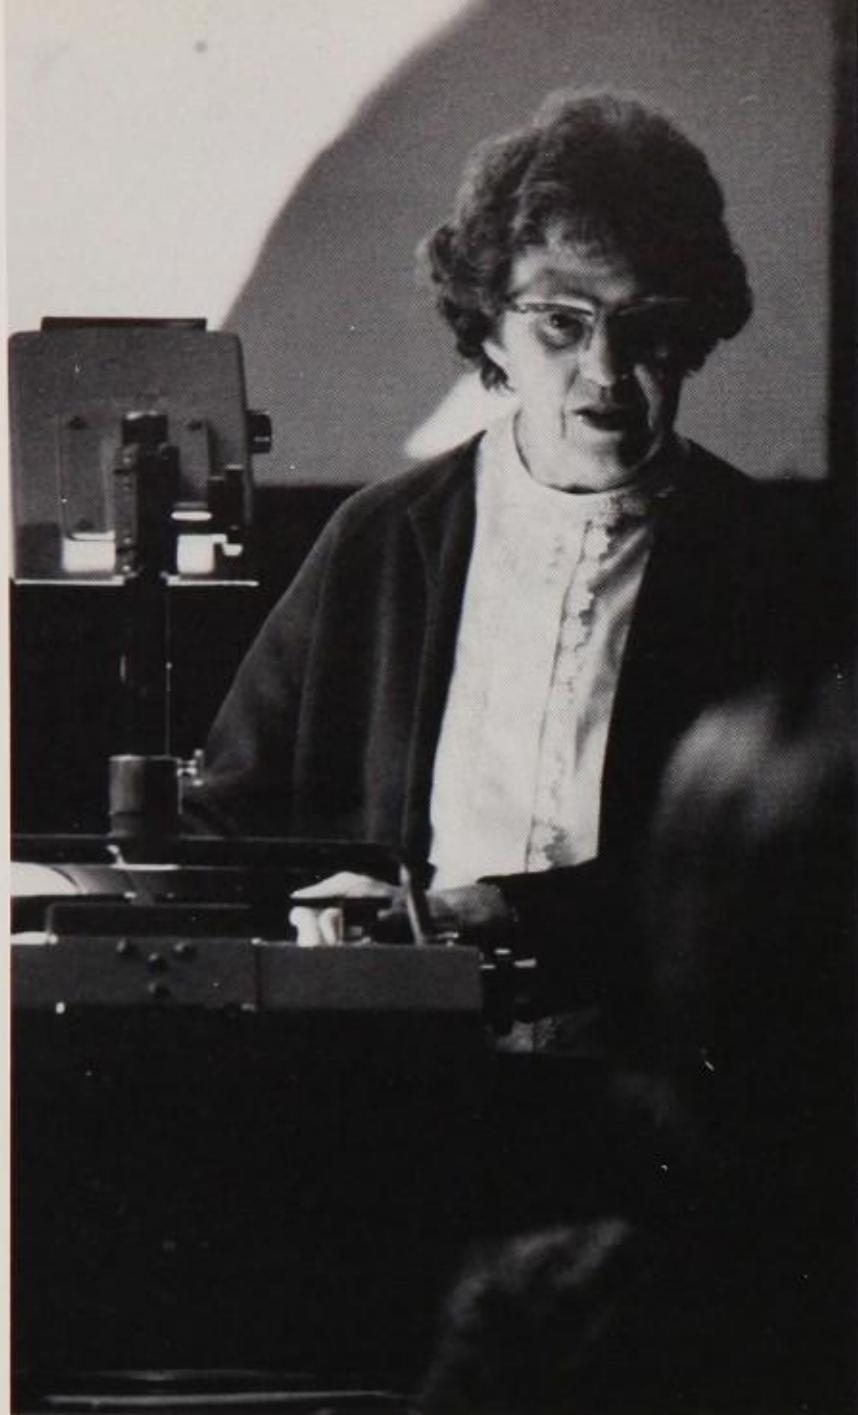

Directing special education and testing for all Medford schools is Mr. Henry DeVoss. In addition to this his department provides for home teachers and also for educational benefits to the physically and academically handicapped.

Mr. Lindsay Vinsel directs the adult education in Medford and this year has added through his program educational opportunities for high school dropouts.

Mrs. Elsie Butler

Honored by Crater Staff

This year, Mrs. Elsie Butler retired after a 25-year teaching career at Medford High School. Beginning her term at Medford in 1940, she taught mathematics and took the responsibility of Mathematics Department Head. She maintained this position for the entire 25 year period. Among the math subjects taught by Mrs. Butler during her career were basic algebra, geometry, algebra III, trigonometry, and college algebra.

In 1945, Mrs. Butler became the Boys' League Advisor and in following years was either senior, junior, or sophomore girls' counselor. Other advisory positions during the years included Tri-Hi Y advisor and scholarship chairman. She was scholarship chairman until 1961.

Mrs. Butler has achieved a key position of admiration at Medford High and will long be remembered and appreciated for her kindness and teaching abilities.

Mrs. Johnnie Van Scoy

Honored by Crater Staff

Desk work constituted much of Mrs. Van Scoy's social studies career of 36 years at Medford High School.

Mrs. Johnnie Van Scoy retired this year after fulfilling a teaching career of 36 years at Medford Senior High School. She began teaching in 1928 in the field of civics and history. In 1934, Mrs. Van Scoy became the advisor for the History Economics and Civic Association and maintained this position for the rest of her teaching career here at Medford. Later she broadened her subject areas to meet the needs of the expanding student body and she began teaching Economics and Sociology.

Because of the fact that Mrs. Van Scoy dedicated over 36 years to Medford High, many present day students were acquainted with her through their parents' experiences of previous years. During each of her teaching years, she has offered a pleasing classroom atmosphere and special closeness to her students. She often seemed more like a friend than a teacher.

Mrs. Van Scoy will long be remembered and honored at Medford High as one of the most dedicated teachers ever employed. She will always hold a place in the hearts of each of her students because of her sweet and understanding manner and good will.

Academics

Representing the prime purpose of an educational system is the academic division. Learning about sciences, social sciences, and humanities broadens the student's mind and makes him more fit to face the challenging world. To fill this purpose, long hours of study, teacher's lectures, and experiments must be utilized.

Social Studies

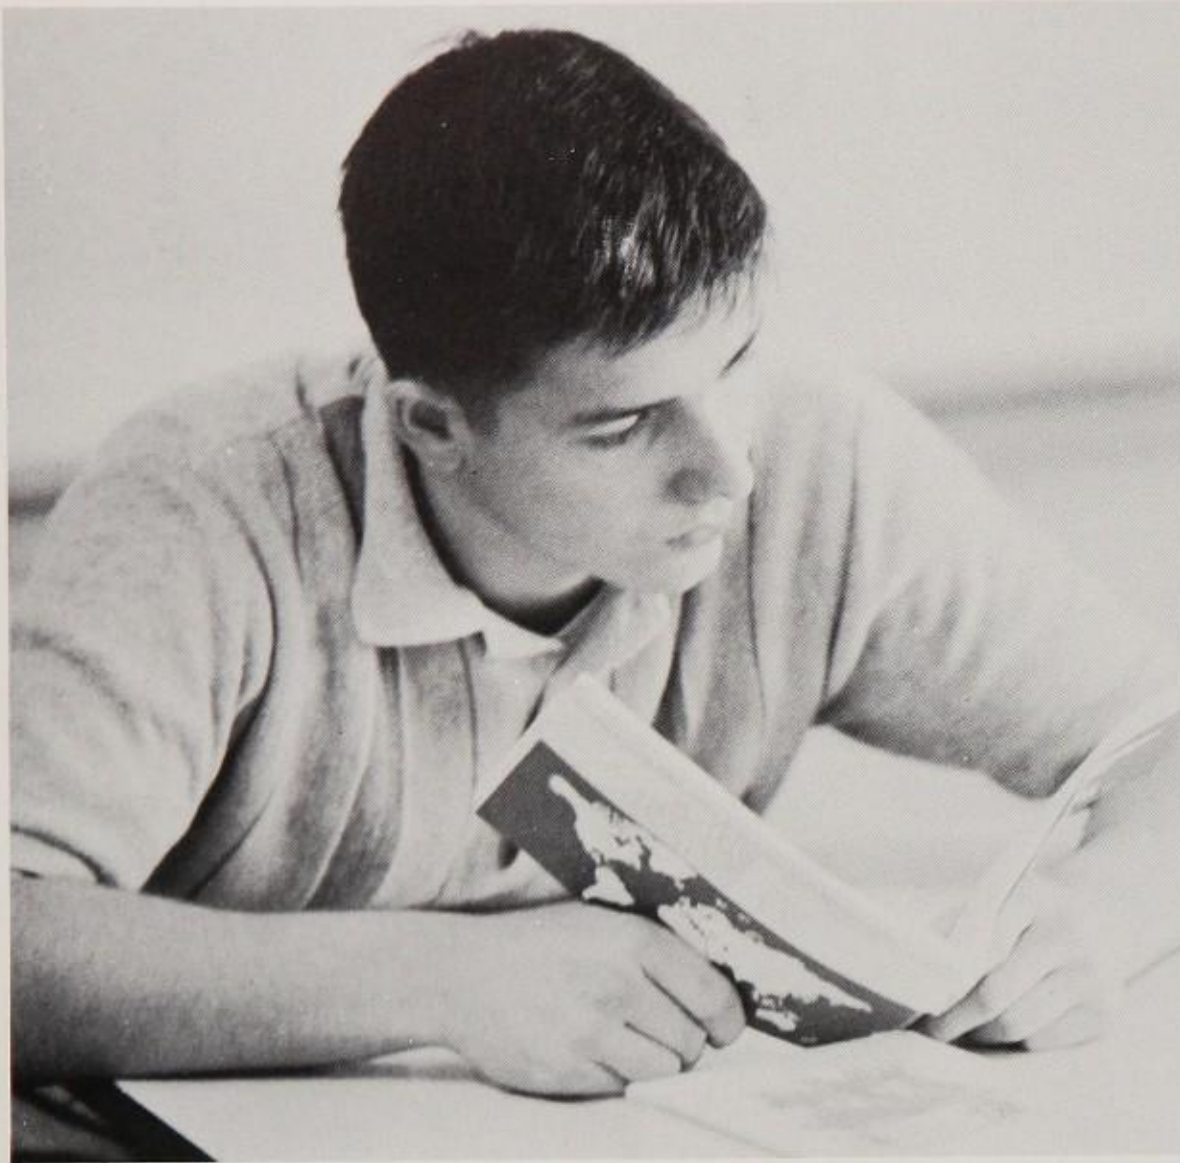

View Our Heritage

Social Studies teachers have taught their students the means of organizing and participating in a democracy. Graduates proceeded forth with an understanding of the past which will enable them to cope with today's world and the situations that will occur in tomorrow's.

World History, Ancient History, Advanced Placement European History, Economics, and Sociology were courses offered that afforded a large variety to the students.

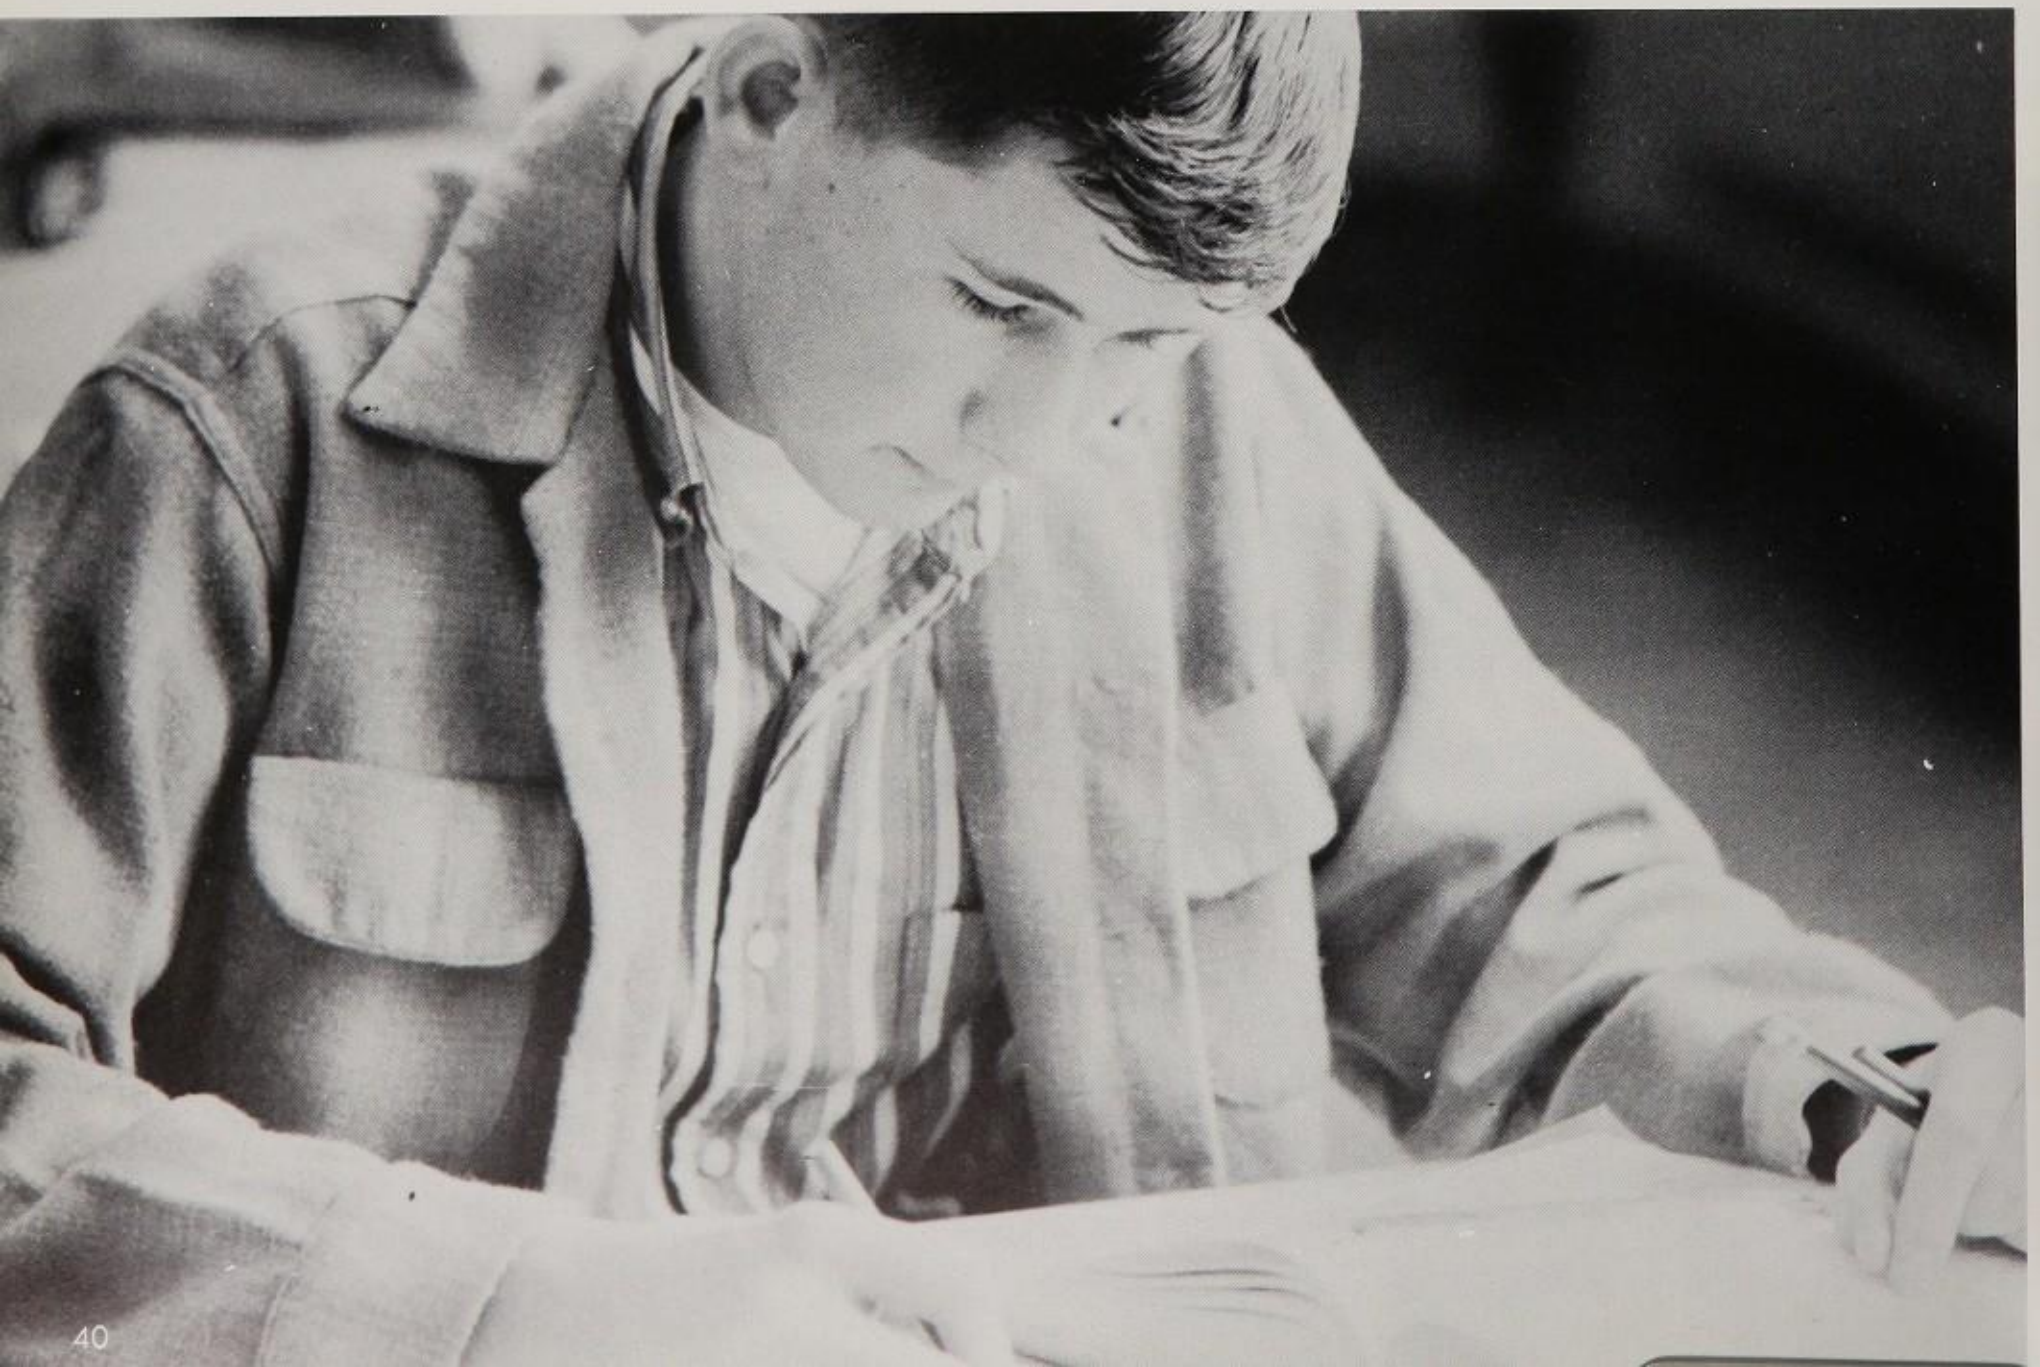

Juniors were required to take U. S. History and Government which gave them an understanding of the past that will assist them in future decisions as American citizens.

A required course for seniors was American Government and Problems. Through this course seniors graduated with an understanding of America's problems today and the responsibilities they have to contribute in solving them. Some team teaching was used in the American Problems classes.

Steve Edmonds studies one of the pamphlets that are required in American Problems classes.

English Opens Doors to Communication

Many students have benefitted and acquired new knowledge this year from the English department. The guided reading program has taught students to have a deeper understanding and appreciation of novels. Sophomores studied world literature. Juniors acquired a realization of the history of American literature. Seniors graduated with an understanding and knowledge of English literature. Drama classes contributed to entertainment and cultivated student talent. Journalism classes, Hi-Times staff, and Crater staff have enabled the school to function as a unit through communication with the students.

Dick Howsley expresses an important point in his debate.

Jim Douglas seems to have lost interest in the discussion of transcendentalism in early American literature, or maybe he is worried about tomorrow's assignment.

Jannell Cheatum studies and records the various items in her biology class.

Science Presents

Answers But Still

More Questions

Courses in Biology, Chemistry, Physics and Science have opened areas of scientific knowledge to their students. Biology classes will prove valuable in future years. They have revealed life's processes, and familiarized students with scientific method and tools and techniques of the laboratory.

Chemistry students studied the materials of the world—what it is, how it behaves, and why it behaves that way. Experiments have proved exciting through mistakes as well as accuracy. Students will continue with a better understanding of the components of earth and how they react with each other.

Physics courses offer a good foundation for further work in the field of science and also reveal the practical aspects of physics for everyday use. Physics gives the students knowledge of energy and its relation to matter.

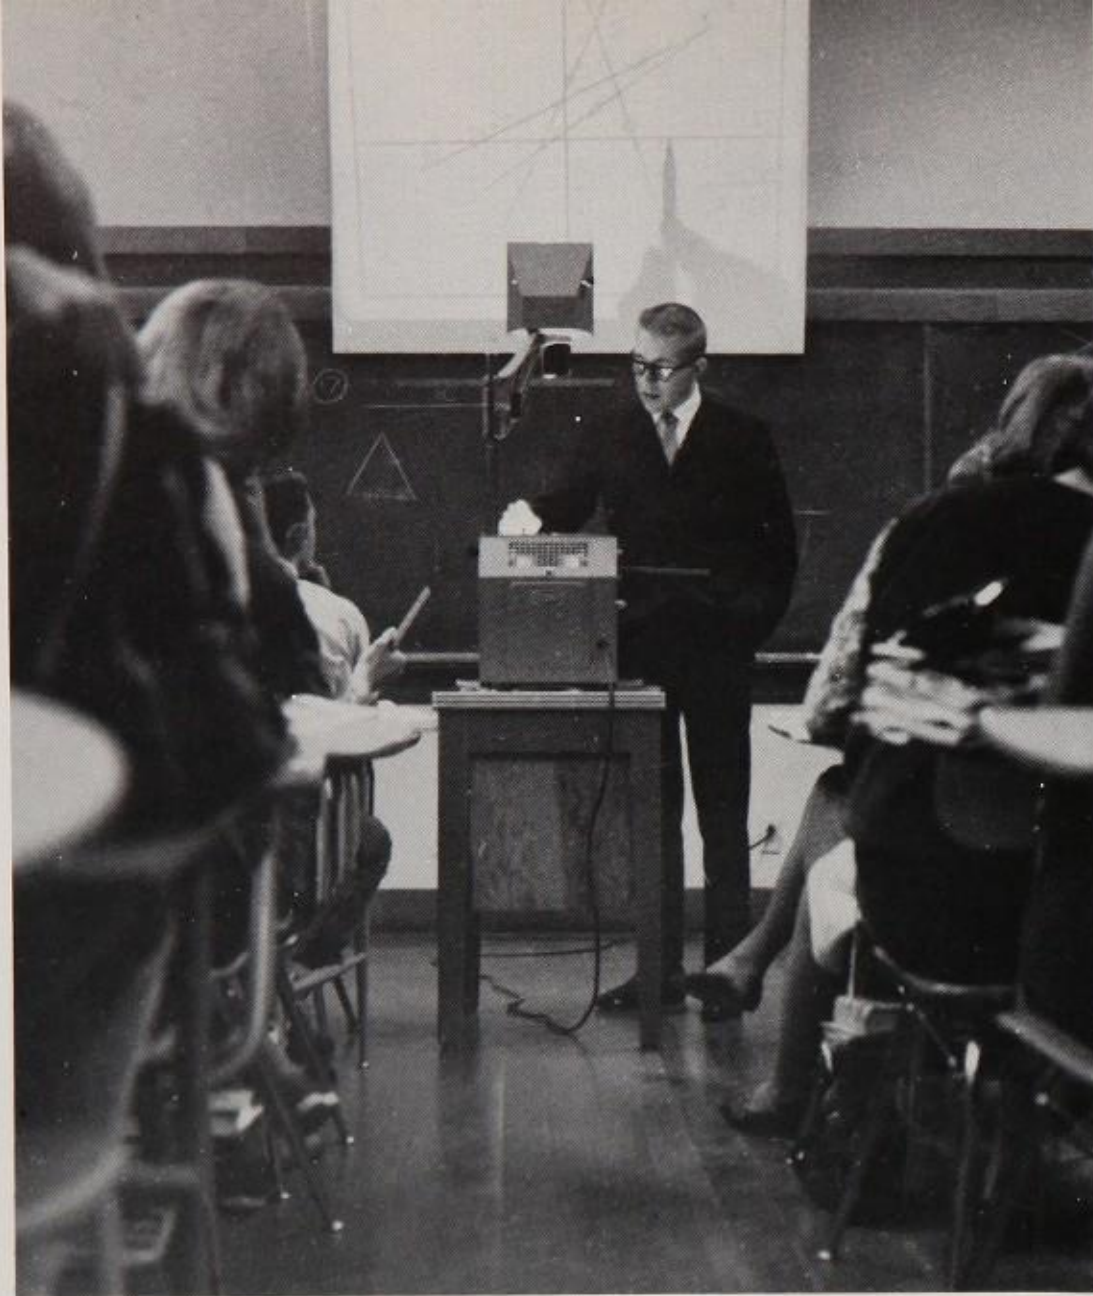

Physical Science gave the students knowledge of the practical, everyday aspects of science.

Lin Kretz observes one of many chemical reactions that are produced in chemistry class, while learning the Scientific Method.

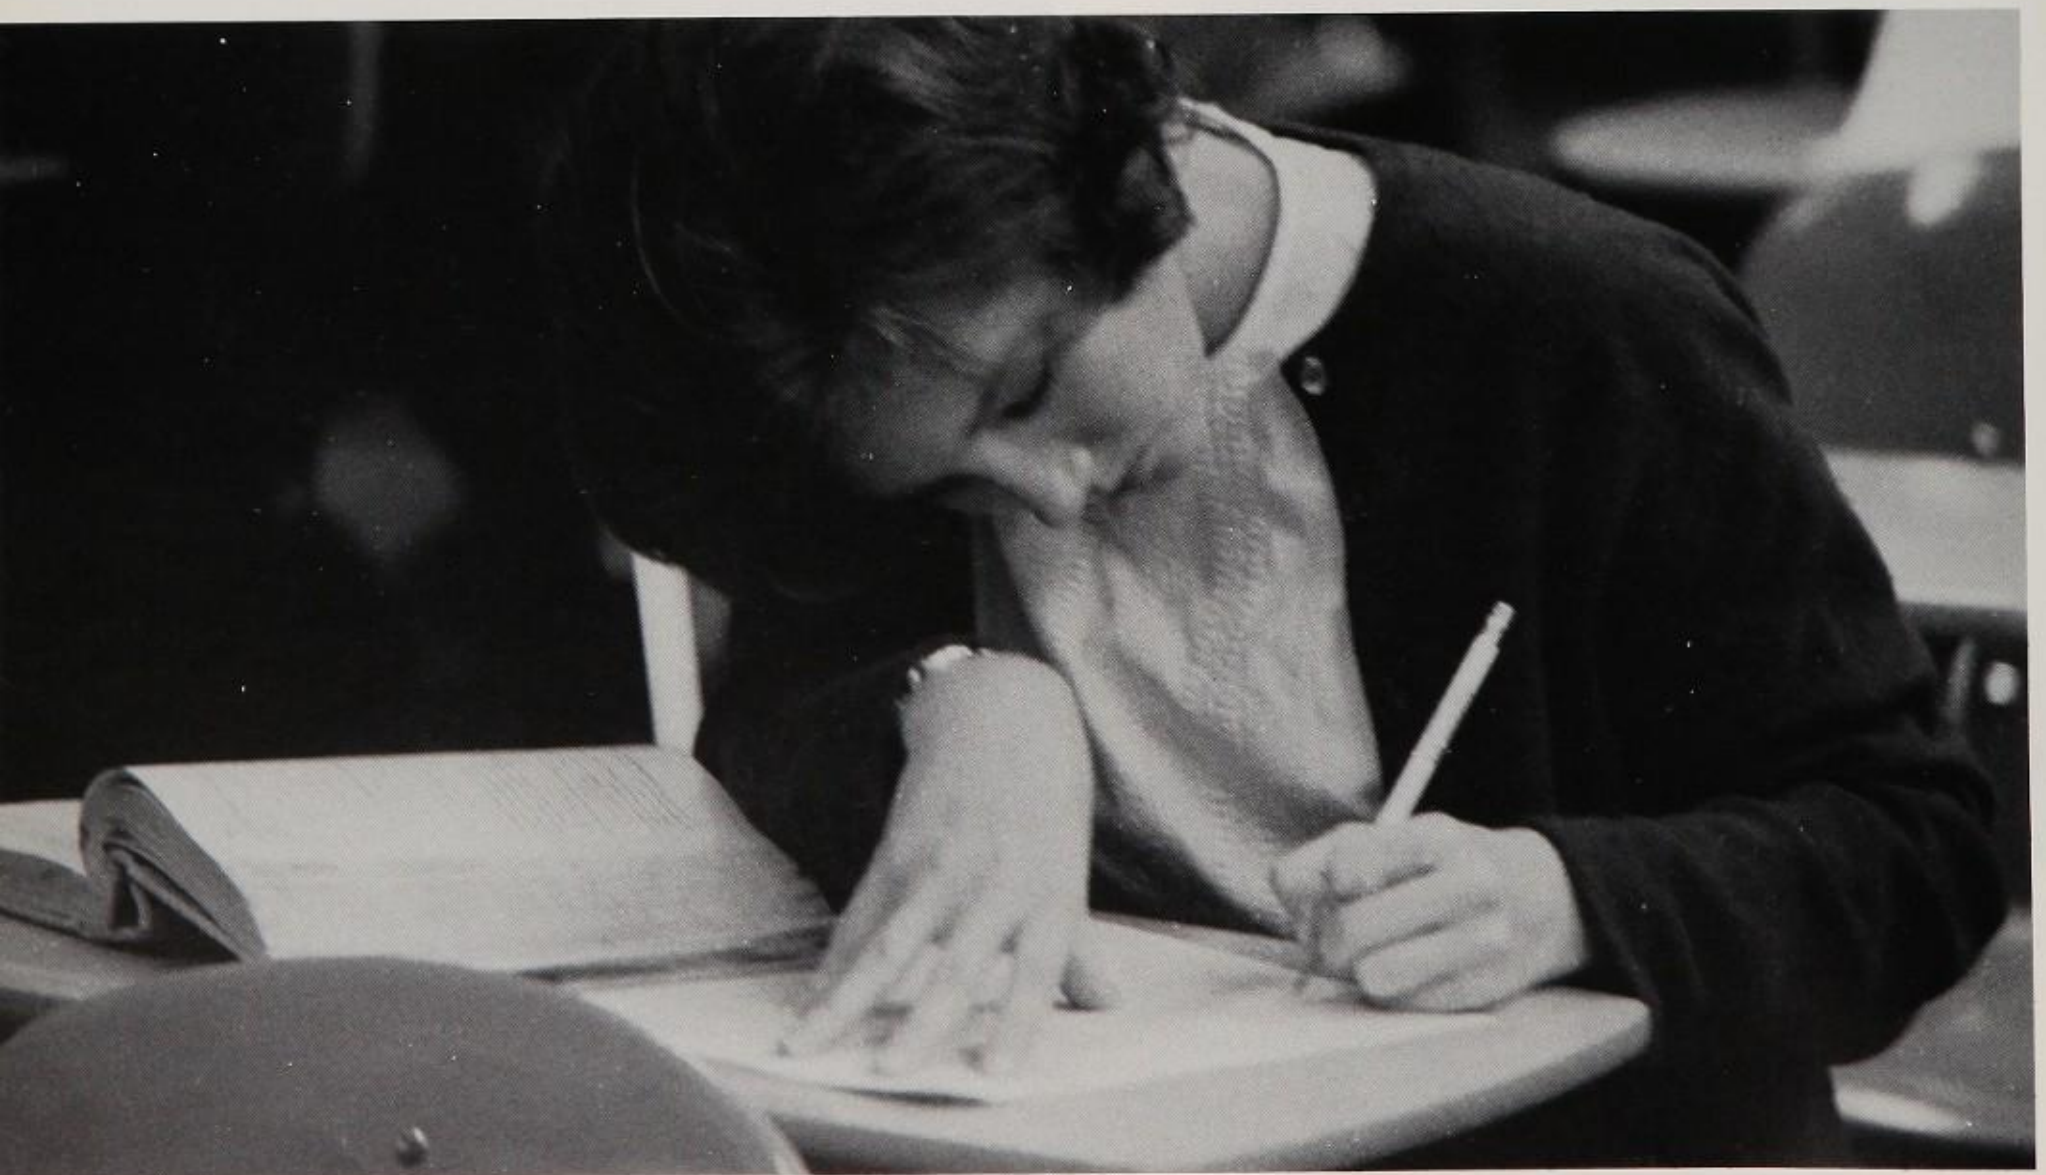

Judy Miller learns the simple fundamentals of machinery that is used in physics class for the practical everyday use.

Mr. Dedrick illustrates an algebra problem on the overhead projector.

Mary Gordenier attempts to work a math assignment in her geometry class.

Math Courses

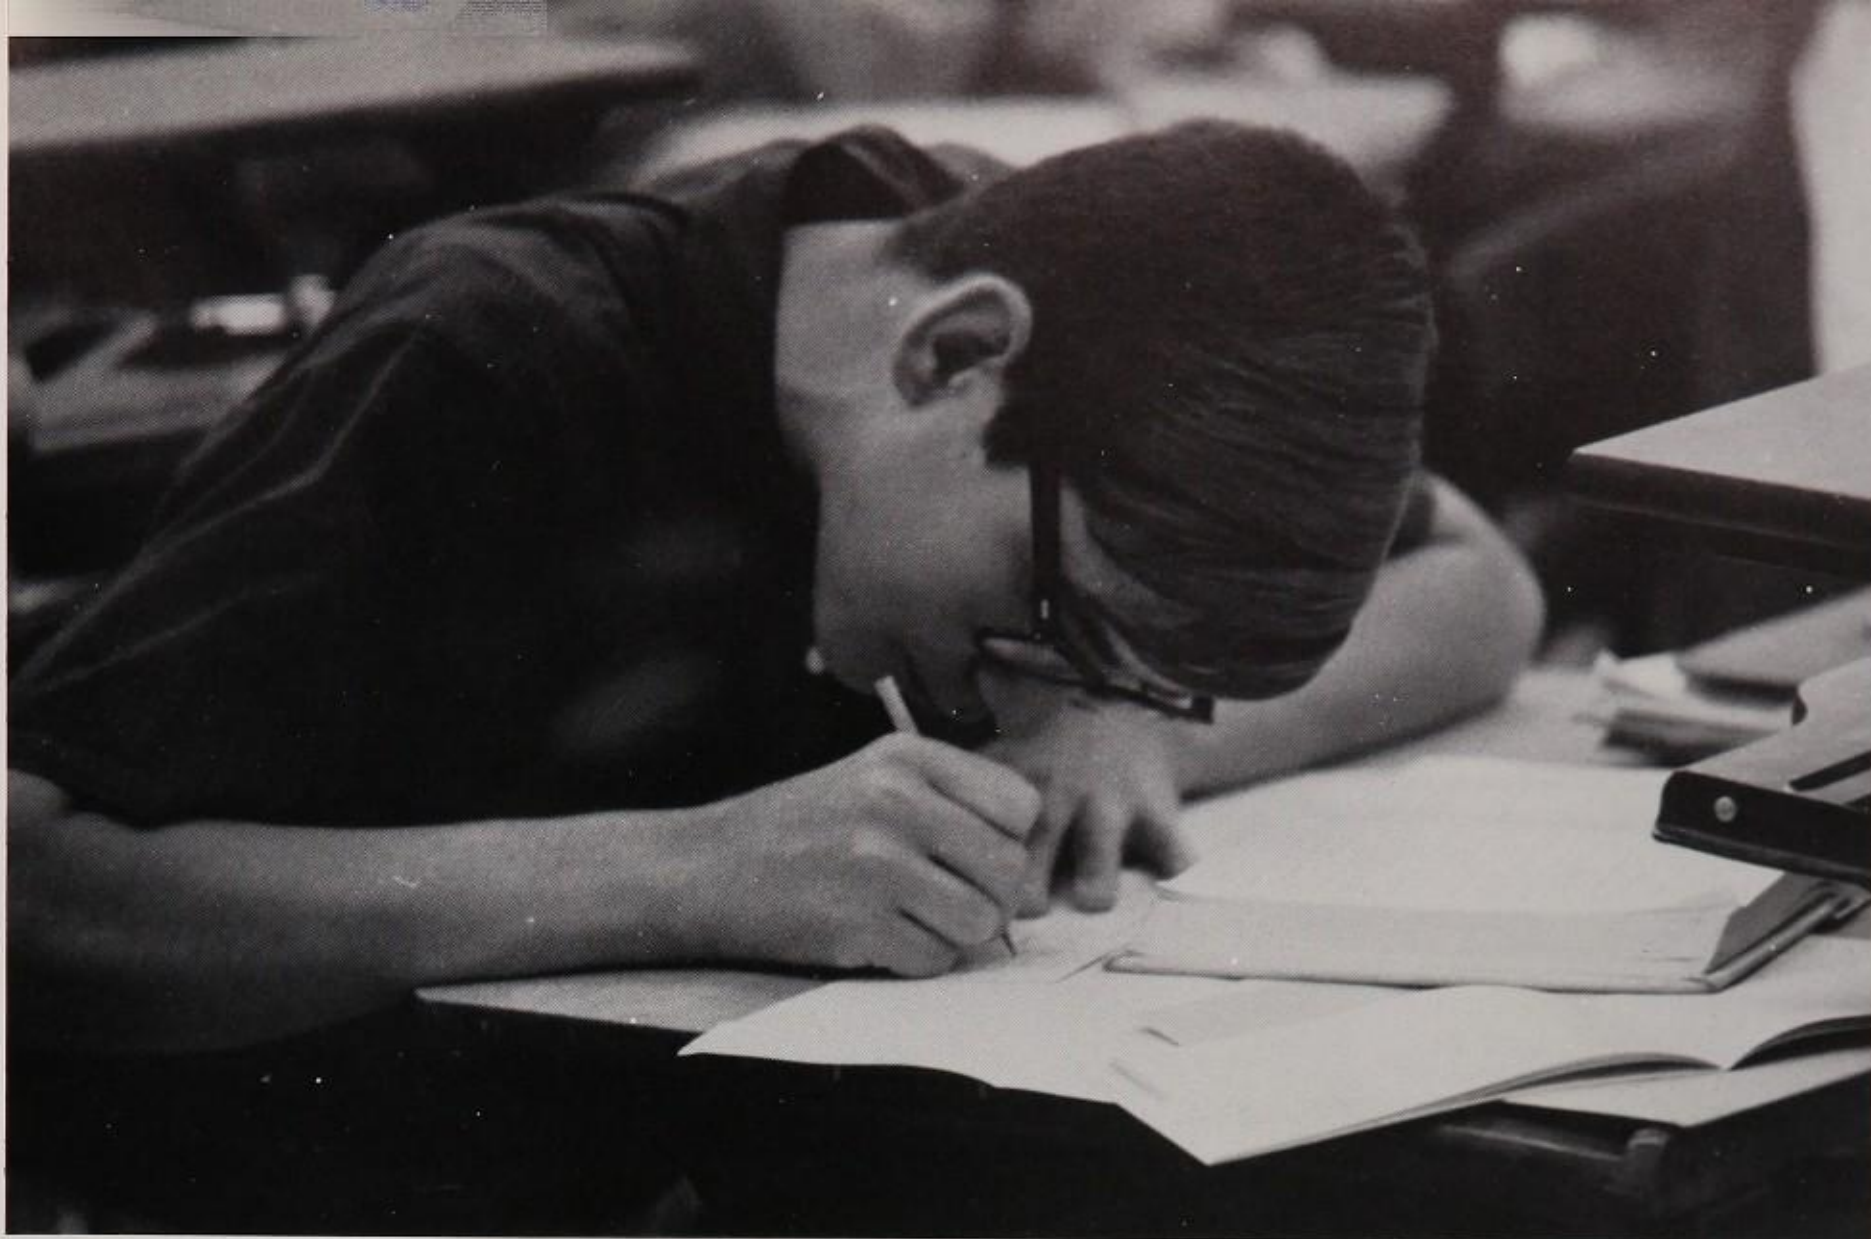

Sharpen Students' Reasoning

Developing accuracy and facility in practical situations was the main goal of the Mathematics department. Courses were offered in Algebra, Trigonometry, Geometry, Calculus and Senior Math.

First year Algebra students studied generalized arithmetic and a set method of thinking. Those who were ready could advance to Algebra 3 or even further into College Algebra. College Algebra is a preparation for students in the scientific and engineering fields.

For those who desire mathematics on a more advanced level, Matrix Algebra and Boolean Algebra were offered.

Geometry taught students to prepare statements by a process of careful reasoning which is necessary in almost any line of work. Team teaching was used in some Geometry classes.

"I don't understand why my balance sheet doesn't balance," thinks Charles Elienberger as he diligently tries to keep up with his bookkeeping assignments.

Lois Goold practices on an adding machine, one of the many business machines.

Business Prepares

Students for Its World

To meet the needs of students interested in various types of office work, the Business Education Department strives to make a well-rounded offering available to the student. There are several courses that will equip students with skills that will enable them to step into worthwhile jobs after high school as well as being highly beneficial in their own personal needs.

The three business majors at MHS are stenographic, bookkeeping and clerical. Typing 1 and 2 are open to sophomores, while juniors may take bookkeeping, shorthand, business machines and clerical typing classes. Seniors are able to choose from any of these courses.

Physical Education

Develops Healthy Bodies

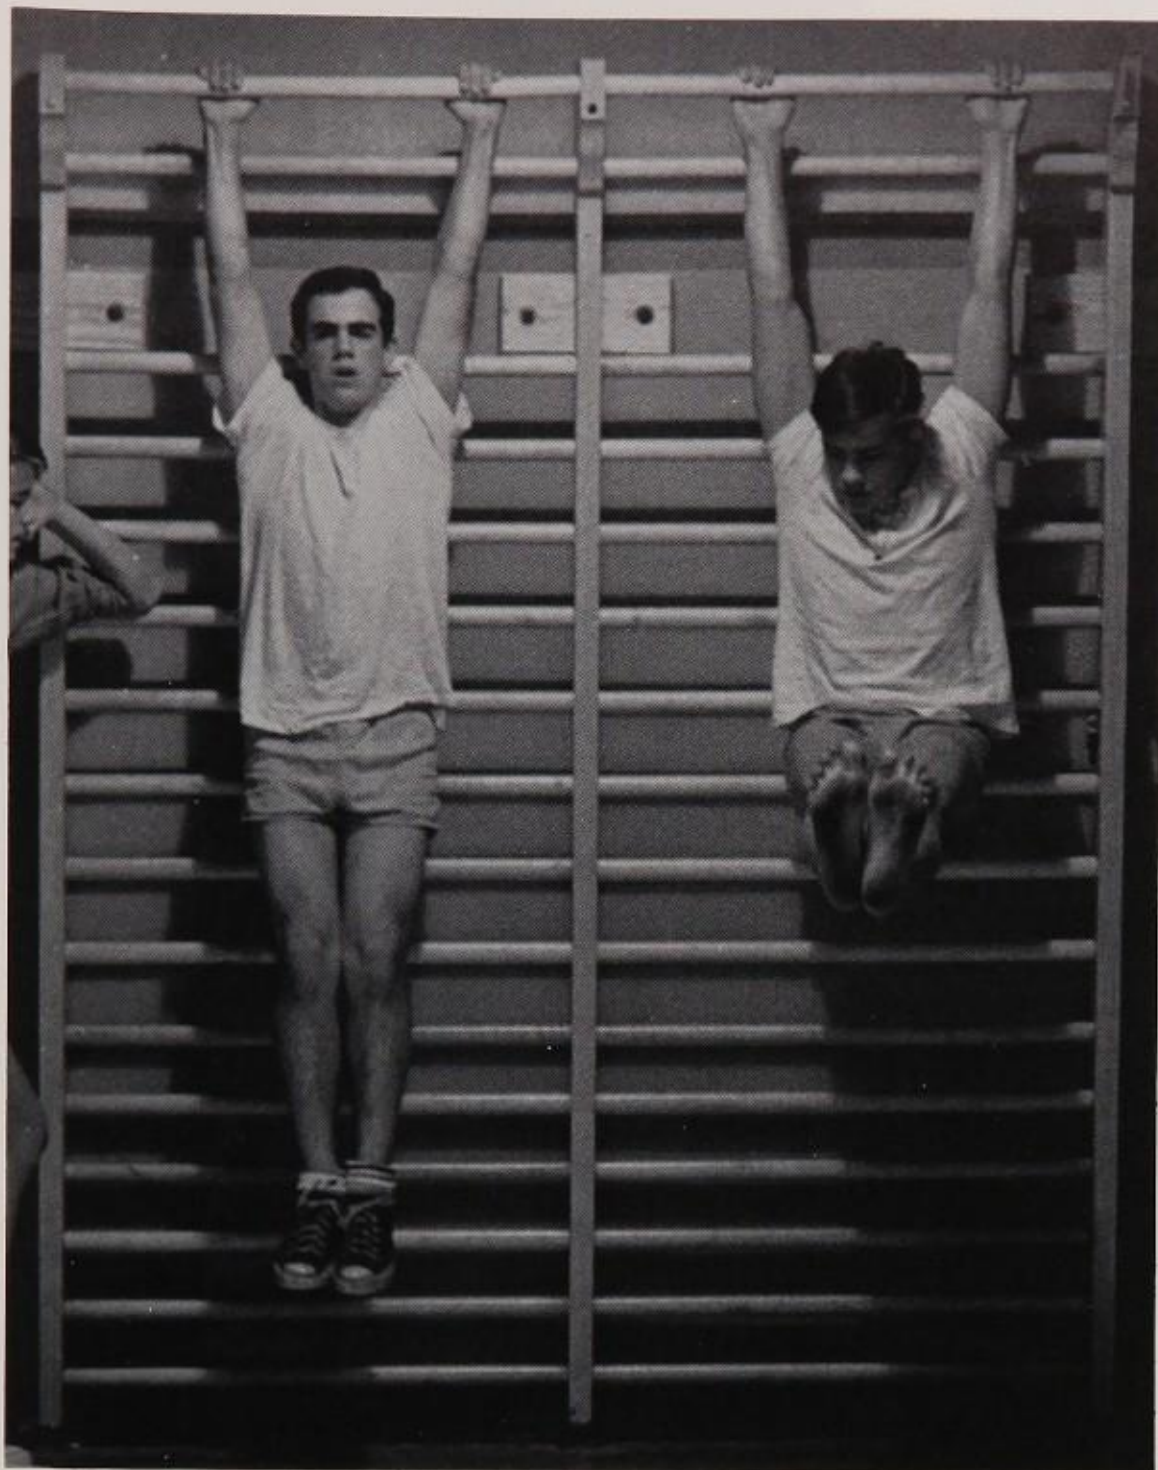

In addition to academic achievement, MHS promoted physical fitness through the physical education program. The purposes of this program are: to create vigorous physical activity in order to promote muscular strength and endurance; to promote growth and development of all students; to teach those skills which will enable students to participate in activities and recreation before and after graduation; to teach students health and safety practices; to teach good sportsmanship, cooperation, self-confidence, courage, and initiative.

At Medford High physical education is required of all sophomores. It is an elective for juniors and seniors. Among the more famous units of sophomore P.E. is the rhythm class. Many of the students seemed to cringe at the knee-slapping music of the "Salty-dog Rag." The sophomore girls complained about wet stringy hair after swimming class, but all of these students learned a lot through their physical education program. The juniors and seniors chose P.E. as an elective usually to provide a break in the tedious academic day.

Gymnastics, weight training, bowling and basketball are among the many activities offered to junior and senior boys. Included in the junior girls program are archery, bowling, trampoline, and tennis. The senior leaders were the students that showed an interest and an aptitude in physical education. These students helped instructors in teaching classes.

Elkon Walker and Bill Worne seem to hang from "The Rack" with ease as they test their endurance in one of the many activities of physical education.

Jim Vroman listens to Mr. Carver tell him the basic functions of the car before starting his driver training. Other instructors are Mr. Newland and Mr. Beach.

Pat Pursel studies machinery in Auto Shop.

Industrial Arts

Aids Practical Work

Beginning drafting, engineering drafting, architectural drafting were courses offered to students who desired to take engineering or architecture in college.

Wood shop, carpentry and millwork were courses available for boys interested in working with wood.

Two courses were available using metal, general metal shop was a basic study course which stressed mainly emphasis of safety, proper usage of tools, shop procedures, and operation of the equipment, and advanced metal shop was a two hour class encouraging creativeness in design while working on their projects.

Related work in safety, proper procedure, and hand tools was included in Machine Shop.

For those interested in automobiles, two Automotive Trades courses were available. Mr. Lloyd Lyda, instructor, was named by the Saturday Evening Post as the only shop instructor in the nation to have a team in competition at the national trouble shooting contest held in Detroit for each of the three years the event has been held.

Measuring a piece of wood is an ordinary task in woodshop as Larry Milligan shows here.

Gary Austin looks very intent as he solders this metal in metal shop.

Ed Calloway works intently on a required project for machine shop.

Here Bob Emig is patiently working on a preliminary house plan.

Arts and Crafts

Gives Enjoyment and Usefulness

Through Arts and Crafts, students not only developed their natural skills, but they learned the many different phases of arts and crafts.

In beginning art, which is for the student with no previous training, students learned the basic elements of design, form shape, color, texture, balance and composition. Students worked with problems ranging from class experiments to units in drawing, painting sculpture, industrial and commercial design. In intermediate art, these same principals are taught only at a more advanced level. The advanced art classes were made up of juniors and seniors. Emphasis was spread from experiments in design media and application to specific study of academic methods, theory, and practice in a variety of art fields.

Terry Zimmerman makes a gun holster which was a project for arts and crafts.

Mike Hall, Larry Revis, Larry Copeland, Linda Davis, Laurie Shuler, Ann Donahue and Gary Quinn busily sketch this scene for their advanced art class.

Homemaking and Home Nursing

Prepare Girls for Future

Homemaking and Home Nursing go hand in hand in preparing for a practical, healthy home of the future.

Whether girls had planned marriage or careers, homemaking fit right into the needs and interest of every one of them. In first and second year homemaking, girls studied both foods and clothing and related areas. In the third and fourth years of homemaking, junior and senior girls had their choices in specializing in either food or clothing, or both, and to study Home Management. Homemaking Seminar helped those very busy academic students. This course is offered to senior girls and includes a semester of cooking and a semester of sewing.

After taking the required semester of home nursing, junior girls left this class with many new skills and techniques that will be useful to them in caring for themselves, for their future families, for neighbors, or for complete strangers in time of disaster. During the first nine weeks, the girls studied first aid for sick and injured. At the end of this section the girls should have been able to be of some assistance in time of need by any fellow man. The second part of Home Nursing was devoted to child care.

Ann Bannister looks on as Bonita Denyer bathes the baby.

Pat Hogan looks very satisfied with the meal she has just prepared.

Shirley Jones prepares a pattern layout for one of her homemaking projects.

Foreign Language

Brings Students Closer

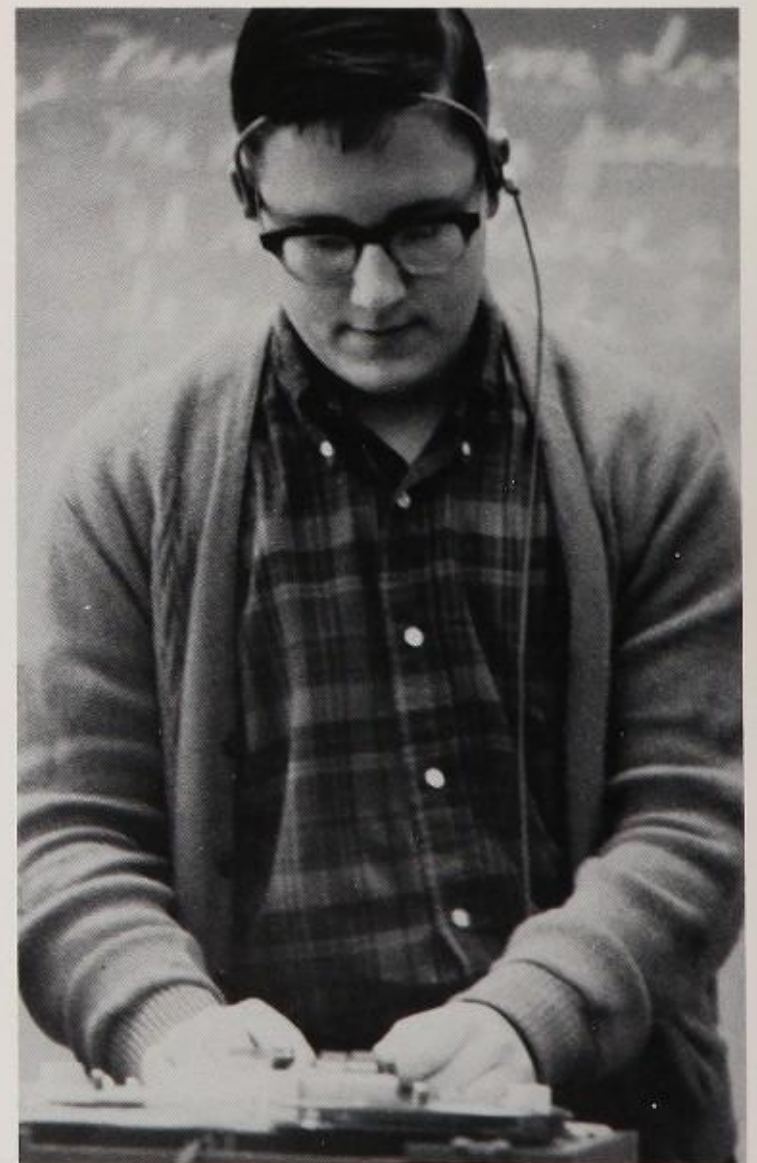

to Foreign Neighbors

Foreign language classes opened up broad realms of interesting and important education. All students planning to continue their education are advised to take a foreign language. The primary objective of Spanish, French, German, and Russian, is to read, write, and speak the language as well as possible. Each of these languages offers an extensive study of literature and a background of their foreign countries.

Latin students strive to develop comprehension as well as facility and exactness in oral and written translation. Through Latin, students were able to grasp a deeper appreciation of our own heritage through reading and interpretation of classical literature.

Ann Heysell correctly repeats her Spanish.

Jim Savard learns to operate the tape recorder in the language laboratory.

Music Speaks

a Different Language

Through music, students are able to understand a universal language that is expressed by composers all over the world. The Varsity and Junior Varsity Bands provided marching entertainment on the football field and in parades. After marching, the Varsity Band converted into two groups, the Senior Symphony and the Concert Band.

The orchestra with the sounds of strings expressed a more delicate language of music.

The groups that composed the vocal department were: the A Cappella choir, the Sophomore Choir, the Advanced Girls Chorus, and the Mixed Chorus.

Expression is the main goal for Dick Fosbury and the other members of the choir.

Janet Lee practices "Block Band Jazz" in preparing for the East West Shrine game held in San Francisco.

Achieving precision on a violin is a tedious but satisfying process as shown by Lois Le Faiue.

Activities

Promoting school spirit and adding levity to the school year are the various school activities, such as musicals, pep assemblies, and class parties. Together the members of student council and the student body plan these activities to make the school year more meaningful and pleasant for all.

Concessions

Groups Boost Funds

By Serving Public

One of the varied ways that M.H.S. groups raised funds was by selling food and programs at football games.

During basketball games, Boys' League played popcorn vendors, IRL sold cokes, and Snomads sold programs.

Different groups supplied these services to the football fans. The sophomore class took care of cokes, FTA sold hotdogs, GAA supplied coffee, and FHA followed up with donuts.

"Thirteen Pepsis, please!" The bane of IRL Members' lives were similar requests as they rushed to fill hundreds of orders in the few minutes of basketball halftimes.

Here displaying their advertising symbols, crazy hats, this group of junior girls supported their class by selling football programs at all home games.

My year with you has been a fruitful one. What I have learned from my experience gives me a better outlook and a broader horizon on life. By living your way of life, I seem to have discovered for myself some key concepts of why your country is a great nation.

Medford Senior High School is a great institution of learning, and I am very proud to have been a part of a student body active in both the academic and athletic aspects of school life, a student body which is eager to learn through the perusals of printed pages, and a student body beaming with pride for its teams' achievements.

I wish to thank my teachers for imparting to me the knowledge they have accumulated through experience, my counselor, my coaches, and the office staff who had always been willing to spend some of their precious time to help me with little problems of fitting in. I also want to convey my gratitude to those who have shown their interest in the American Field Service program. I feel that with your responses to the spirit which we want to promote, we shall have succeeded in our effort to contribute to mankind's ultimate goal which is world peace and understanding.

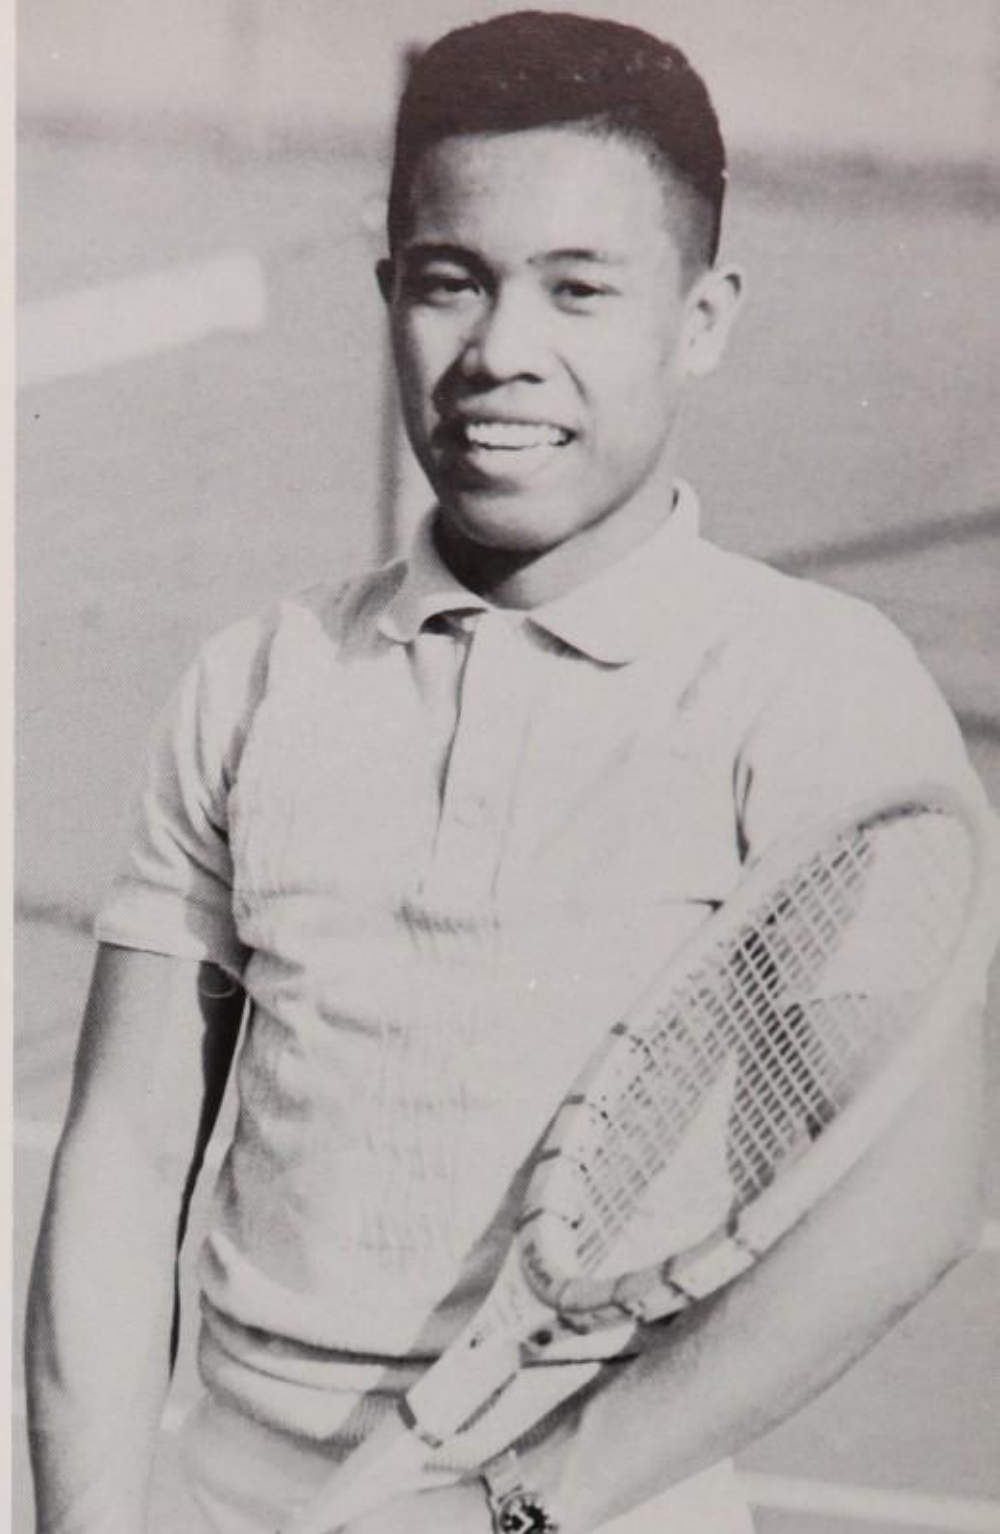

I hesitate to leave that which I have learned to cherish as my second home, but the time has come for the parting of ways. A year so full of wonderful experiences, however, will never be forgotten, the days of which leave happy imprints and lasting memories.

"Laging manatili kayo sa aking puso't mga panaginip."

You will always remain in my heart and in my dreams.

Paalam.
Narciso "Sing" Maravilla

A great asset to the community, Mechtild found time to be a Candy-striper while keeping a sparkling personality on display.

Even after all his other activities, Sing found time for sports. He displays a tennis racket, but he also made varsity wrestling.

Though I do not know what the future has to offer me, I am convinced this year, which presented to me a unique experience, was one of the greatest and most wonderful parts of my life.

Given the opportunity of living among you, actually involved in your way of life—not just as a tourist—I acquired insight and a much better understanding of the United States, its people, and the life associated with it. By this wonderful experience I gained personally and also hope I will be able to contribute to my community.

Most wonderful were getting to know you and being made to feel one of you. I admired the importance you granted to your school life and how much personal responsibility, self-initiative, and school-spirit you show in your activities.

There are unforgettable things, to mention, that were special for me during this year. The highlights were: my first American football game with all its amazing spirit; the participation in Choir, especially My Fair Lady; the day you sang "Happy Birthday" to me in the cafeteria; and the great times I spent with some of you at Drama, IRL, and FTA state conferences. These activities as well as many others gave me together with the daily life of my stay numerous ideas for my future life.

I am very grateful to my teachers, advisers, friends, and to all who have made this year such a happy one for me. Mit herzlichem Dank, lieben Grüessen und das Beste fuer die kommenden Jahre.

Tornadia Week . . .

Offers Something for Everyone

Karen Davis and Jim Cox reigned as king and queen of Tornadia week after the official crowning ceremonies during pre-game.

Barny Szymaniak displays the proper form for denting Klamath cars as he participated in the newest event of Tornadia week.

The bonfire, the car bash, the window displays, the game, and the dance; all the sights and sounds of MHS students from October 17 through 23.

The traditional purpose for Tornadia week is to stress the American Field Service program and emphasize the importance of student exchange in international relations. All proceeds from money-making projects such as the Tornadia ribbons, game concessions, mums, car bash, and dance tickets are donated to the AFS fund for the coming year's student from Medford to a foreign land.

The newest innovation for Tornadia week, the car bash, was held Thursday night at the armory after the bonfire and allowed students to take out their pent-up feelings against the Klamath Pelicans.

Crowned king and queen for the weeks activities were Jim Cox and Karen Davis with Barbara Collins and Rob Rector junior princess and prince and Dixie Shafer and Spence Weber sophomore royalty. Coronation was held Friday night at pre-game activities after which the court circled the field in a trio of Mustangs.

Bill Enyart eludes a Klamath tackler to aid the Tornado in its 21-7 victory over the Pelicans.

Over 350 students attended the Tornadia Dance Saturday night.

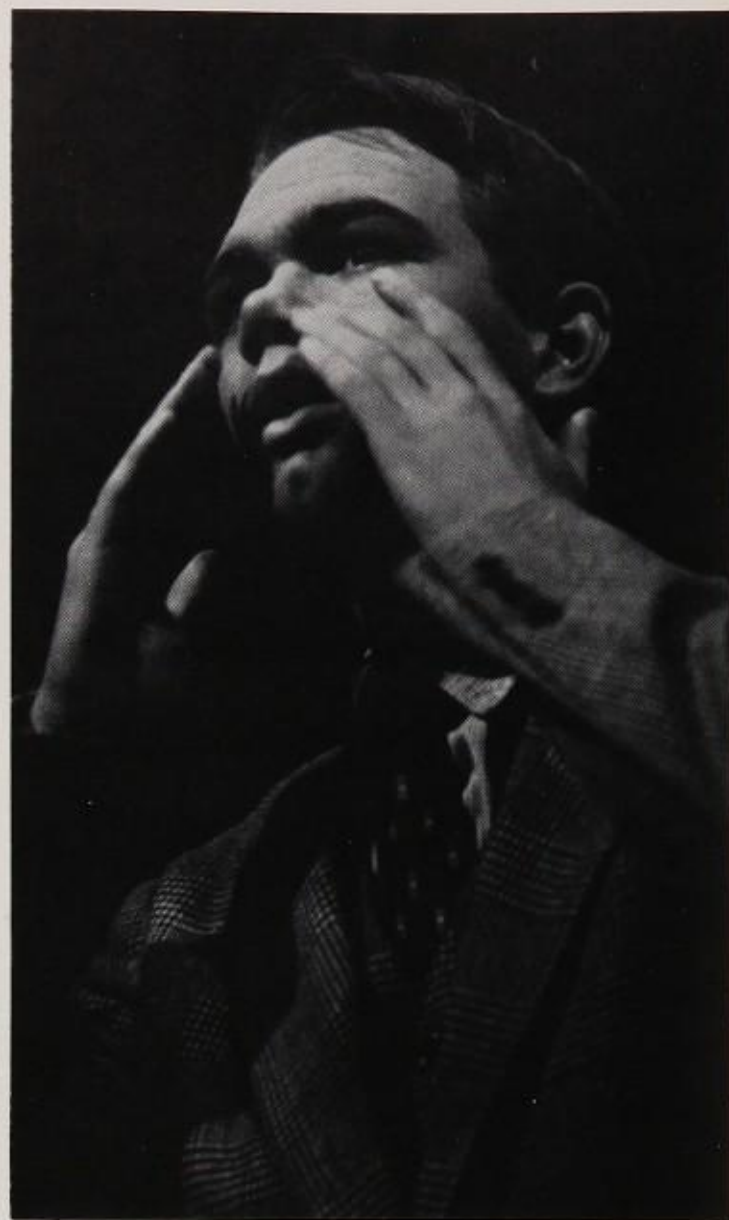

Dinny and the Witches

Season's First Play

Draws Capacity Crowds

Ugla, the death witch played by Evonne Plummer, Zenobia, the head witch played by Karen Hugdahl, and Luella, the nit witch played by Judy Mee, discuss ways they can regain control of the world.

Ben, the blind man played by Martin Kees, rejoices after Dinny gives him his sight. Later, Ben begs him to take it away after he sees all the evils in the world.

Jake, played by Mike Clark, gives his complaints about the new regime under Dinny as the rest of the cast listens and prepares offensive action.

Dinny and the Witches was Thespians first production during the school year. Under the direction of Mrs. Lenore Zapell, it was performed in the auditorium December 3, 4, and 5.

The play is described as a "frolic on grave matters" by its author, William Gibson, and is done in almost a slapstick style although it concerns a serious subject. Outwardly, it is about a man (Dinny) who blows his horn so well that he acquires control of the world from the three witches who originally ran it. They in turn, try to regain their power from him. More deeply, the play concerns man's quest for himself and what will fulfill his purpose on earth.

Assemblies

Aid Sportsmanship;

Boost Pep, Spirit

Prominent in the minds of all M.H.S. students were assemblies held on Fridays before games.

During football season, autumn assemblies filled the grandstand with enthusiastic students. The festivities were directed by the rally squad which led yells, danced, and performed skits of high spirit. During all this, they were accompanied by the band which enlivened things by bursts of spontaneity.

Basketball brought with it home-room assemblies and high hopes for the state tournament. Again led by the rally members, competition yells between students, faculty, and band; or seniors, juniors, and sophomores shook the rafters in the auditorium.

All in all, assemblies were prime factors in promoting attendance enthusiasm for M.H.S. sports.

After losing the Crater-Medford football game, Crater VIP's submit to the pie-in-the-face routine. Doug Mann, Karen Foley, Marty Fegley, and Fred Hauptert commit the atrocities.

With his inimitable style, yell king Mike Barker announces another skit. He and the other members of the rally squad were the mainstays of the pep assemblies.

As the rally squad urges it on, the M.H.S. Student body exhibits its spirit and support of the team. The classes of '65, '66, and '67 completely filled the student grandstand during one of the pep assemblies.

Bruce Guenther, Linda Davis and Anne Donahue exhibit work done by members of the Art Club before a homeroom audience.

Homeroom Program

Entertains, Informs Students

Providing an entertaining break in the routine school day, the homeroom program headed by Mr. Robert Huff gave some an outlet for their creative abilities.

The program was organized to give groups and individuals opportunities to express themselves. Various clubs took advantage of this to put on skits or shows to advertise their purposes and activities. Other highlights of the homerooms were phone calls to various celebrities, music appreciation tapes, films, community speakers, and faculty panels.

As his contribution to the program, Greg Smith, junior, played the piano for many homerooms.

An example of departmental shows was the one put on by the recently formed gymnastic group.

Diane Buckles as Alice listens raptly to her aunt, played by Sharon Hugdahl, as the story of the rabbit hole is unwound to her. The play was a financial success as children had to be turned away at the door.

"Off with her head!" With a suggestive gesture, Rhonda Farfan as the Queen of Hearts, seals the doom of Alice. Costumes for the play were made by students of Mrs. Zapell's senior drama class.

Alice in Wonderland

Enthralls Children

Playing to capacity audiences, this year's children's play was an adaption of Louis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland". Put on by Mrs. Zapell's senior drama students, the play featured Diane Buckles, as Alice, Sharon Hugdahl as her aunt, Jim Kerber as the White Rabbit, Barbara Wood as the Cheshire Cat, Caroline Gilley as the Mock Turtle, Scott Wagoner as the Mad Hatter, Sue Davis as the Dormouse, Marvin McCoy as the Gryphon, Rhonda Farfan as the Queen of Hearts, Karen Hugdahl as the Duchess, Tom McGraw as the Knave, Jerry Wall as the King, and Linda Keplinger as the March Hare.

"Twinkle, twinkle little bat . . ." is the song sung by Scott Wagoner as the Mad Hatter as he displays his slightly demented character.

Dona and Dan played by Sharon Hugdahl and Martin Kees are reunited after years of separation.

It Should Happen To A Dog

JONAH Tom McGraw
 MAN Tym Travis

"It Should Happen To A Dog" was a seriocomic strip in which God's question to Jonah is asked—"Why should I not spare Nineveh?" The author says, "This is, one hopes, how God feels about Man—unlike Man who is less tolerant of himself." The setting for the play included Tarshish, the sea, the belly of the whale, and Nineveh. It was presented in the drama room January 21, 22, 23 under the direction of Mrs. Lenore Zapell.

Spring Formal

Is Spring Time

Splendor

Although many girls' dress plans were upset, the plan to change the Winter Formal to the spring was extremely successful as 135 couples, more than ever before, attended.

The theme, "Spring-time Splendor," was carried through imaginatively in all the decorations. The crew worked all day erecting daisies and a miniature park.

Couples danced to music from a group of independent musicians and were entertained during intermission by Bill Bailey from Radio Station KSHA.

Les Bush does his part by putting together one of the daisies that decorated the walls of the gym. Although the crew worked hard all day, Les seems to be enjoying his part.

Anything will do to stir paint with, and Joy Guidry has resorted to a piece of cardboard, while Marty Fegley and Mechtild Reithmueller are absorbed in their work.

Undertaking the momentous task of producing My Fair Lady, the MHS choir spent many hours perfecting the ever-popular Broadway play. Playing to capacity crowds all four nights, the two casts shared tedious rehearsals, comments, and criticisms with composure.

The story of My Fair Lady is taken from the play Pygmalion written by Bernard Shaw. Frederick Loewe and Alan Lerner adapted the plot to the musical My Fair Lady.

The setting for the musical is London in 1912. Professor Henry Higgins, an expert on dialects, makes a bet with Colonel Pickering that he can turn a common flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, into a duchess in six months time merely by changing her speech. At the end of six months, Eliza is taken to an Embassy Ball and hailed as a princess. Professor Higgins succeeds, but he leaves Eliza in a world in which she has no place. After searching for her old place in Covent Garden selling flowers, and considering marriage with Freddy, a young loafer who is infatuated with her, she returns to Professor Higgins as the play closes on a note of uncertainty.

Choir, Band, and Orchestra

Exhibit Students' Musical Abilities

CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Lynn Sjolund, the choir gave many concerts during the year. The most time-consuming project was the musical "My Fair Lady." The 110 member group found time to sing at the country club, the Rogue Valley Manor, and various churches. They also performed at their Christmas and Spring concerts. As an A Cappella group, the choir sings without accompaniment. Quite a few of the members participated in the All-Northwest Choir.

BAND

The various divisions of the band participated in numerous festivals and other events during the year. Led by Mr. I. A. Mirick, the organization gave a "Helping Hand Concert" to raise funds to finance a trip to San Francisco to play in the Shrine

East-West football game. Medford's own high school games were enlivened by the Varsity Band which backed the Rally Squad and Pep Club and presented a show during the half-time. The Pep Band, directed by Mr. Miller, played for basketball games. All phases of the band organization played for the all-city music festival which also included grade school and junior high school bands. During May, an exchange program with Madison High School of Portland, brought the two bands together in an outstanding concert.

ORCHESTRA

Conducted by Mr. John Drysdale, the orchestra gave several concerts and played for various civic functions during the year. The orchestra also participated in an exchange concert with Madison High School.

The Christmas activities of the music department were culminated with a traditional concert presented by the combined choirs of Medford High.

Government Day

Encourages Concern

for Government

In order to familiarize students with the workings of city government, the Elks Lodge and city and school officials organized a Student Government Day. More than 40 students participated in the program including American Field Service and city and county observers.

Candidates for councilmen and mayor were nominated by petition and then elected through primary and final ballots. Appointed officials were named by the elected councilmen and a steering committee comprised of representatives from the American Problems classes. Jack Mullen was mayor and Mark Milne, Jim Root, Carol Tinsley, Bill Warren, Dennis Boshears, Madelyn Bounocore, and Hal Kinglien served as councilmen.

Ah - Wilderness

Received With

Enthusiasm and Warmth

As their last production of the year, Thespian Troupe #358 presented Eugene O'Neill's comedy "Ah, Wilderness".

Occurring in the early 1900's, the play presented an episode concerning the Miller family, centered on the love-life of Richard Miller and Muriel McComber played by Bill Hedberg and JoAnn Jarvis. The plot is complicated by Muriel's father, played by Jim Kerber, who disapproves of the poems Richard has been writing to Muriel.

Production of the play was made more difficult by the fact that all props and costumes had to be fitted to the time of the beginning of the 20th century.

Richard, played by Bill Hedburg, upholds his right to write poetry to Muriel without her father's intervention.

Nat Miller, played by Sec Wagoner, defends his son's position of the "new and daring" poetry.

Mrs. Miller, played by Rhonda Farfan, expresses the concern she feels for her son's moral safety.

Bicycle Day

Provides Break

in Routine

Bicycle day, sometimes known as sack-lunch day, was held on May 14 and served as a final semester tension-breaker.

Casual clothing was the order of the day, and many rode bicycles to and from school. Lunch hours were lengthened to allow for picnicking on the field. Highlights of the day were a dance on the tennis courts and an auction of pictures put on by the Crater staff.

During lunch, impromptu games of football and baseball erupted with members of the regular teams taking starring parts.

Sophomore Party

Gives Underclassmen

a Chance for Fun

With Spence Webber as its chairman, the Sophomore party was an unmitigated success. "The Jolly Green Giant" was organized so that each sophomore English class had a booth. Various contests and games such as tricycle polo were also held during the evening. Another event was one in which contestants tried to put on all the various pieces of apparel contained in a sack.

Playing for the well-attended dance were the popular Tom Swift and the Movers. Bob Haworth and John Eads entertained with their folk songs and humor.

Junior-Senior Prom— Tiki I

Imparted as Name of 1965 Theme

Tiki I was the name of the theme given to the 1965 Junior Senior Prom, by co-chairmen Greg Smith and Christie Sleeter. The theme was carried out through all the decorations which were in a tropical motif. Predominate was the giant head of the "Great god, Tiki;" The bandstand was decorated in fish nets and shells. One end of the room was transformed into a giant waterfall with live goldfish swimming in pools at its base.

The princesses and queen of the event were elected by the student body. Yell queen, Teresa Riggs, was elected prom queen and was crowned by student body president, Fred Haupt. Princesses were juniors Barbara Collins escorted by John Ingram, Jeanne Woods escorted by Greg Smith, and Lee Ann Riggs escorted by Dale Durkee. Senior princesses were Mechthild Reithmueller escorted by Bob Haworth, Karen Foley escorted by Marty Fegley, and Katy Mitchell escorted by John Eads.

Dancing to the well known Randy Hugdahl Combo, couples attending the Junior Senior Prom were provided with a very entertaining evening.

Graduation

Brings Future Close

to Many Seniors

"When Israel Went Forth Out of Egypt" was the song sung by the choir at the commencement exercises.

Bringing to a close the high school careers of Medford Seniors, were the traditional Baccalaureate service and Commencement exercise. 1965 saw the largest class ever to graduate from MHS with 645 receiving diplomas.

The Baccalaureate service was held at the Armory on May 30. The Reverend Charles R. McDonald gave the Invocation and the Benediction. The Reverend Robert W. Tull of the Congregational church gave the sermon. He spoke of a human's "zoo" of traits and how we must learn to keep each tame and in its place.

Mendelssohn's march from "Athalia" was played by the MHS Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. John Drysdale, as the processional and recessional. The Choir, led by Mr. Lynn Sjolund, sang the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" and the response to the benediction.

Governor Mark O. Hatfield addressed the graduating class. He spoke of bettering the world by participation instead of standing by doing nothing.

Rapt attention expressed itself on the faces of these girls as they listened to the Governor Mark O. Hatfield's speech.

The repetition of marching in and out of the stadium polished the students for their final performance.

The moment every one had been waiting for came with the distribution of the diplomas. The cases had been handed out empty to avoid a disastrous mix-up.

The entire 645 members of the graduating class of Medford Senior High of 1965 stand at attention for this composite picture.

Expressions of thoughtfulness cross the faces of Mark Wilson, Phil Frohnmayer, and Bill Akin as they wait for commencement practice.

With the excitement of commencement over, the graduates poured in to rid themselves of their vestments.

Commencement - 1965

Releases the Largest Class Ever at MHS

After two days of learning to walk in time to the music, the Medford Senior High School Class of 1965 made its final appearance as a group at the commencement exercises held in the stadium on June 4. Dressed in blue gowns and mortarboards, the class was an impressive sight as it marched in 645 strong.

Speaker for the exercises was Governor Mark O. Hatfield, who told the graduates to strike out for new and better worlds. He emphasized that we cannot stand by as observers, but must participate if we expect better things.

The choir and band also added to the ceremony.

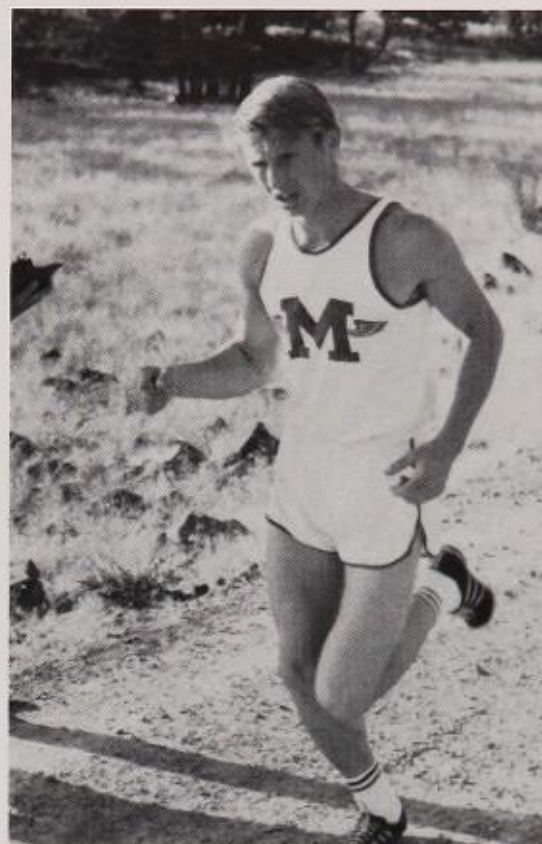

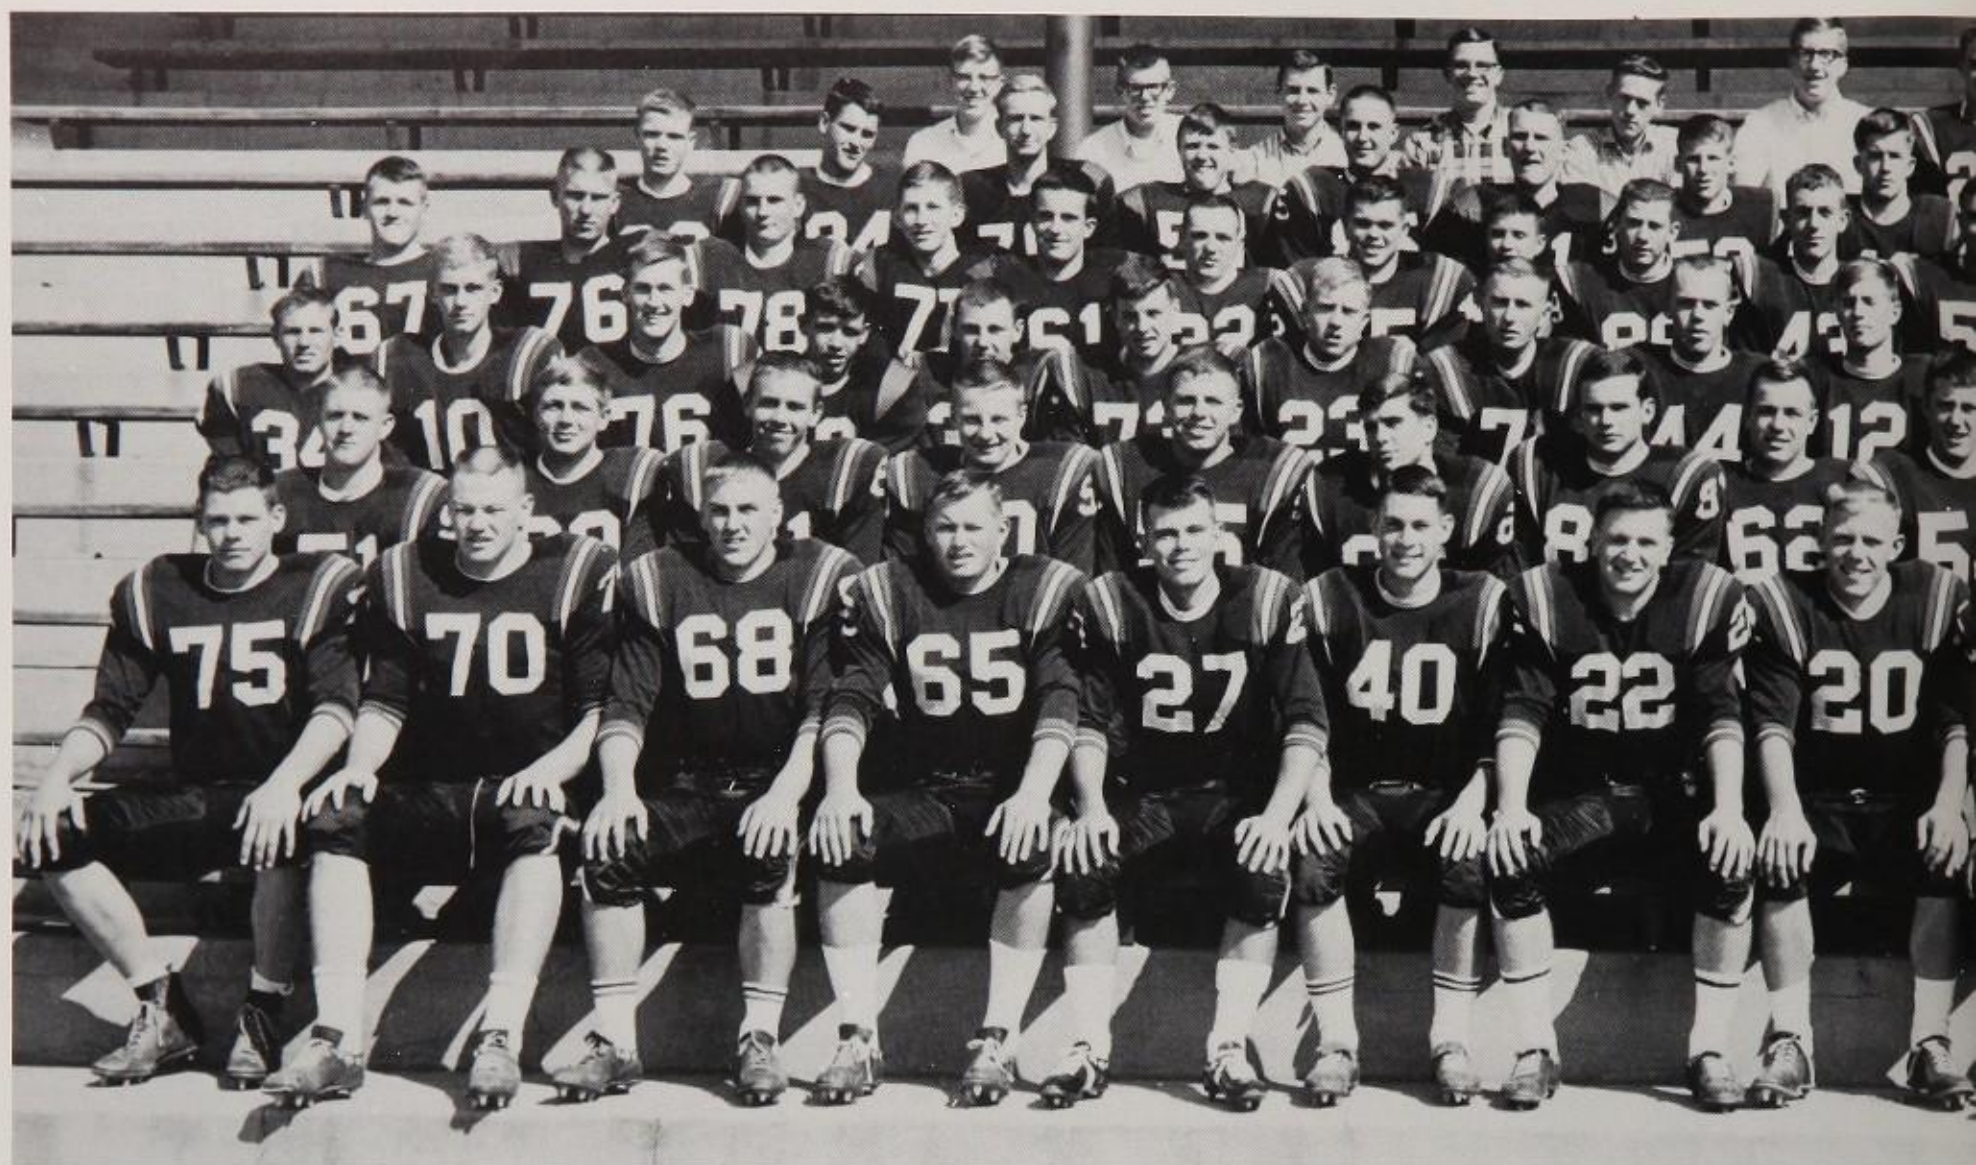

Sports

The sports divisions at MHS strive for unity and excellence through long hours of training and practice. Coaches' instructions and individuals' instant decisions give the athletic department a traditional good name in both the school and community.

Varsity Football Team

Led by Speigelberg, Had Fine Pre Season

The Black Tornadoes opened their football season in Corvallis against the Spartans. Medford's Bill Enyart scored late in the second quarter and Bill Collins kicked the important extra point. Corvallis came back in the third quarter and scored, but Dane Smith crashed in to stop the extra point. Corvallis attempted a field goal from 15 yards out in the final three seconds of the game, but failed. The game ended with the score 7 to 6. Bill Enyart sparked the team by carrying 27 times for 134 yards.

Medford's second pre-season encounter and first home game was against the North Salem Vikings. The Tornadoes scored an upset victory over the number one rated Vikings. Medford fans were quite surprised when Jim Cox, Tornado back, took the opening kick off and ran 90 yards for a touchdown. Bill Collins kicked off for the Tornadoes, and a fumble recovered by Dane Smith, set up Medford's second touchdown. Bruce Bertrand then ran the ball in for the second score on an end sweep. An intercepted pass by Lynn Flanders gave Medford a third chance at a touchdown. Jim Cox then ran the ball into the end zone for the third score. Bill Collins kicked all three extra points. The game ended with a final score of 21 to 0 and a Tornado victory. Dane

Smith, Lynn Flanders and Dana Thurman led Medford's defensive efforts.

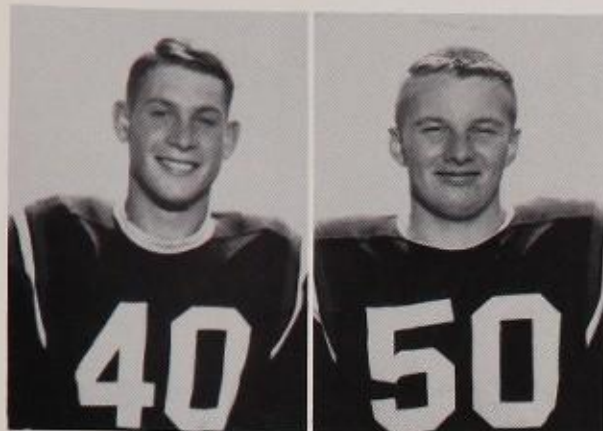

After the upset victory over North Salem, Medford took on the South Salem Saxons. The first quarter ended scoreless and the half ended with a 7 to 6 margin over the Saxons. In the third quarter a Medford fumble paved the way for the Saxons second touchdown. Medford now behind rambed back to win with a 28 to 13 victory. Bill Enyart scored two touchdowns, one from 3 yards out and the other from 7 yards. Cox and Mullen both scored a touchdown each and Bill Collins kicked 4 extra points.

Medford's only out of state game of the season was with Borah of Boise. Borah opened the game by scoring as soon as they got their hands on the ball. Medford came back with a touchdown pass to Steve Davis and Bill Collins missed the extra point. Medford came back with a drive after a Borah punt and scored as Bill Enyart went in from 3 yards out and Bill Collins kicked the extra point. Medford still behind by a point was unable to score again. The game ended with a 27 to 13 victory for the Lions.

The best defensive football game for the Tornadoes came against the Boise Braves. Boise scored early in the game on a field goal, which turned out to be their only score of the game. Bill Enyart drove in from 2 yards out and Bill Collins kicked the extra point. The game ended with a 7 to 3 victory for the Tornadoes.

Conference Play Starts With Crater

The Medford Black Tornadoes edged the Crater Comets in the opening game of the District 6 A-1 conference. For the third consecutive year the Medford High gridders have beaten the Comets by one touchdown. Medford received the opening kick off and on a series of 16 plays was then able to score on a Jack Mullen to Jim Cox lateral from six yards out. The next time Medford had the ball a Tornado fumble set up Crater's first touchdown. Crater was successful in kicking the extra point to lead the game by one point. The half ended with a 7 to 6 score in favor of the Comets.

Crater opened the second half by kicking off to Medford. An electrifying 81 yard run back by Bill Enyart suddenly changed the score in favor of the Tornadoes. Bill Collins' extra point attempt was successful and in spite of a spirited second half battle by the Comets the Tornadoes posted a 13 to 7 conference victory.

Bill Enyart led Medford's attack by carrying 24 times for 100 yards. Supporting Bill's successful efforts were Jim Cox, Jack Mullen, Art Lee, and Bruce Bertrand.

The Medford High gridders climaxed Tornadia Week with a 21 to 7 victory over the Klamath Falls Pelicans. The first quarter of the game ended scoreless with Medford holding the ball on Klamath's 2 yard line. The first play of the second quarter was a 2 yard plunge by Bill Enyart for the first score of the game.

Medford's next chance to score came when Ken Curtis intercepted a Pelican pass and ran back 14 yards to the Klamath 27 yard line. Jim Cox then ran the ball in to the end zone from one yard out for Medford's second score.

The Tornadoes scored again in the fourth quarter when Bill Enyart bullied his way in to the end zone from 14 yards out ending a 75 yard drive. Bill Collins kicked all three extra points for Medford.

The Pelican's scored once in the fourth quarter. Their only other scoring efforts were ended at the Medford 43 yard line.

The Black Tornadoes storming back calmed a brilliant Ashland quad at Ashland's Walter A. Philips Field 21 to 12.

Medford scored three times, twice by Jim Cox and once by Bill Enyart. Bill Collins added three more extra points to his collection. The defensive crew stymied the Cubs to just 29 yards on the ground. Two sensational scoring jaunts (92 and 52 yards respectively) by Cox and Curt Wyatt were cancelled by officials both on clipping infractions.

As the second quarter opened the score was 0 to 0. By recovering a fumble in Medford territory, the Grizzlies got the first break of the game and capitalized on it. But, Medford got the second break of the game and did a better job of it, taking the lead 7 to 6. From then on Medford led the game.

That was the game that was. The game the Grants Pass Cavemen had been waiting for, for over a decade. The Medford Hurricane was forced to yield its Southern Oregon Conference crown to the Climate City crew in a stunning cliff hanger 28-21. The final tally came at the last second.

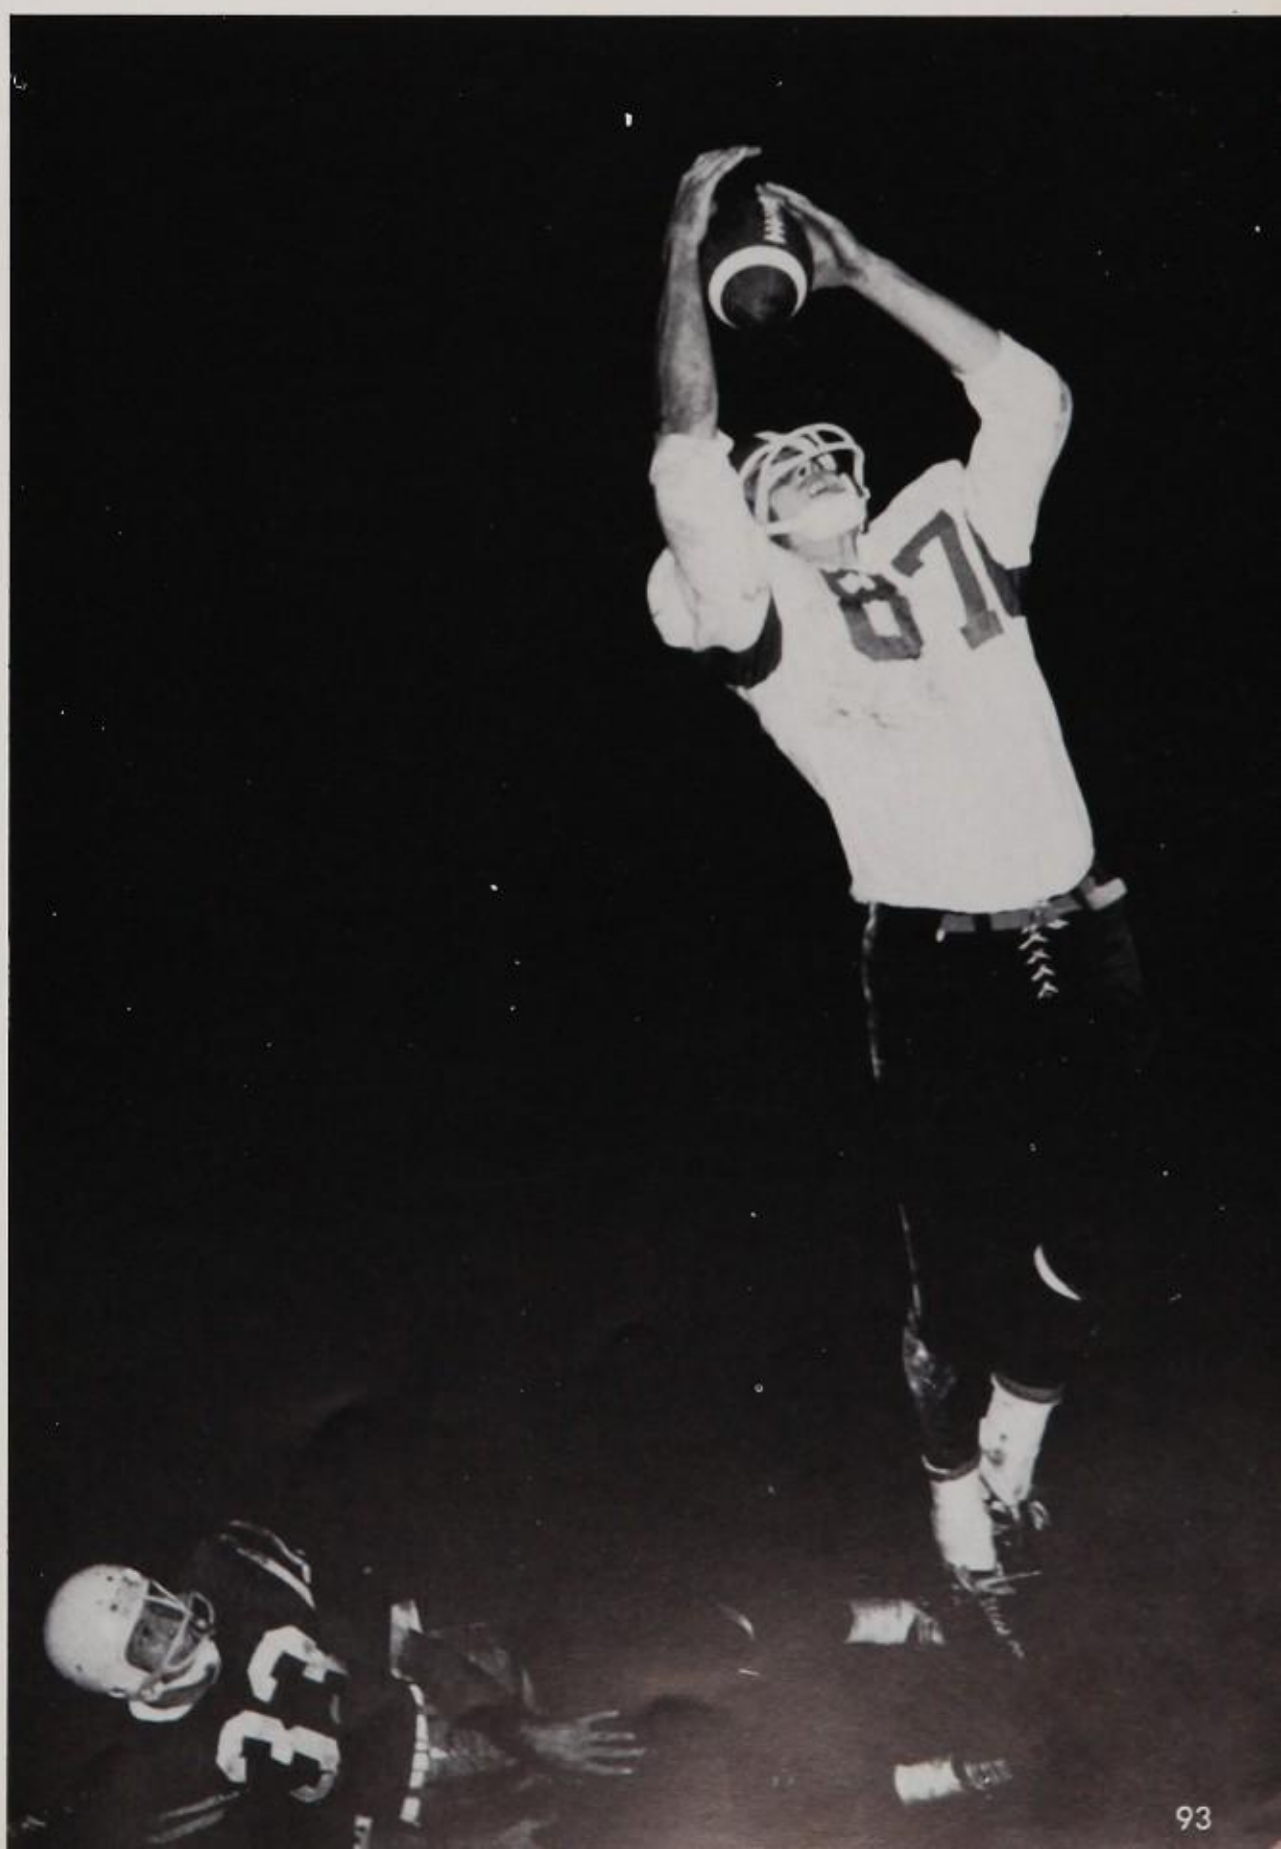

John Yoakley recovered a Cavemen fumble on their third play of the game. Greg Dippel scampered around left end 26 yards to score. Immediately the Cavemen surged back on a 68 yard drive in 15 plays. But Medford was not to be outdone. After the kick off return Greg Dippel scored on third down racing 44 yards around left end on a pitchout from quarterback Jack Mullen. A last minute Tornado threat at the end of the half was stwarted and the score remained 14-7.

Grants Pass scored early in the fourth period to take the lead. Curt Wyatt recovered a fumble in Grants Pass Territory. A Mullen to Davis pass was good for six points with extra point. With no time left the Cavemen stood on the Medford 22 yard line. Tom Blanchard threw to Terry Crenshaw in the end zone scoring once again for Grants Pass; the game was over.

Greg Dippel carries the ball in the Grants Pass game with George McNair running interference for him.

Steve Davis leaps high into the air for a touchdown pass against Grants Pass.

Dick Howsely runs back an Ashland punt in the Ashland-Medford J.V. game.

Medford's varsity and Klamath's varsity split the four season games. Medford won the first two and Klamath won the last two. The first two games that Medford won were played at the Hedrick Gymnasium while the last two games were played at Klamath. The Tornadoes and the Pelicans were district co-champions and both participated in the Oregon State Basketball Tournament in Eugene during spring vacation.

The Tornadoes first meeting with the Pels turned out to be a surprise and an easy victory. Medford outdid the Pels by 13 points. The second encounter was probably one of the most interesting games of the season. Medford came back from a 10 point deficit in the fourth quarter to tie the game. Medford played one of its best team efforts of the season in defeating the Pels by one point in an overtime. Bill Enyart's rebounding and Doug Olson's ball stealing led the Tornado victory.

The last two encounters with the Pelicans proved to be disastrous. Medford lost the third game with Klamath by 9 points. Klamath took the lead early in the second quarter and held the lead throughout the ball game.

The last game was Medford's worst defeat of the regular basketball season. The Pelicans outplayed the Tornadoes by 21 points.

Doug Olson outmaneuvers Grants Pass opponent.

Medford Takes Three From Cavemen

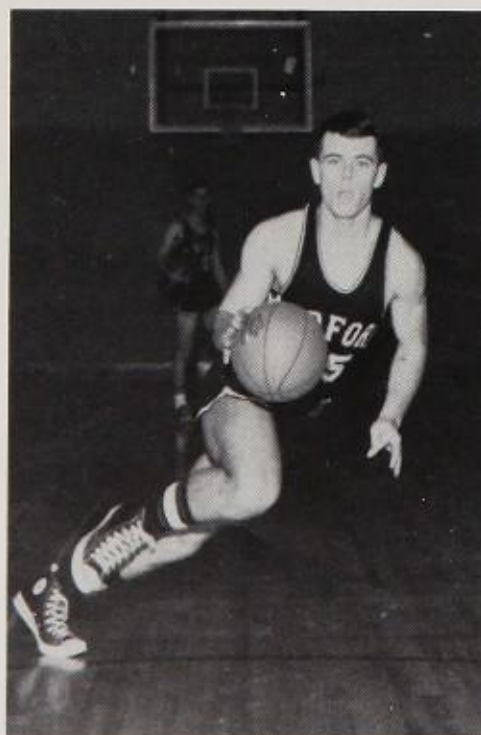

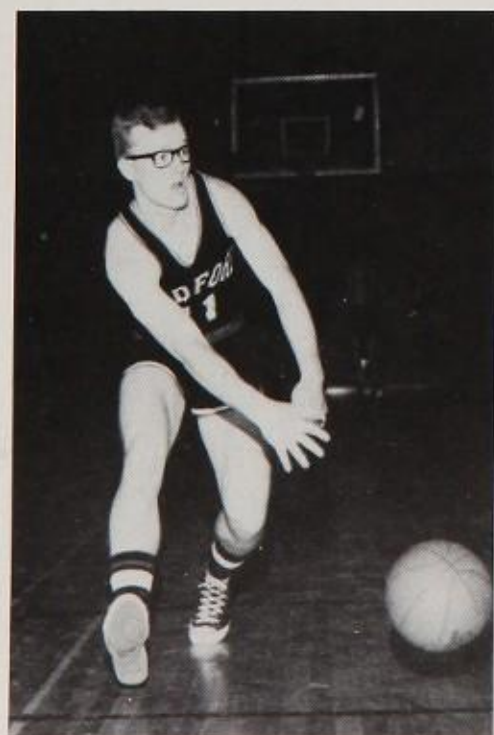

Medford won three season games with Grants Pass while losing one. Grants Pass gave Medford's five a battle in each of the four games. None of the games came as easy victories for either side.

The Tornadoes won the first two games with Grants Pass. Medford won the first game by 8 points and the second game by 5 points. Medford battled from behind in the first encounter and made a fourth quarter plunge to win.

The Tornadoes' first loss of the season was against the Cavemen. The Cavemen won by 4 points. Grants Pass took an early lead in the game and was able to hold it against the attacks of Medford. Medford came back and won the last game with Grants Pass by 4 points.

Tornadoes Defeat

Crater and Ashland

Medford captured all four season games with Ashland. In the first encounter with Ashland, Medford scored 35 out of 64 of its points at the free throw line. In the second game Medford battled from behind to finally win in the fourth quarter. The other two games came as easy victories for the Tornadoes.

The Tornadoes also won four season games from Crater. The second and third encounters with Crater were almost disastrous. Medford just squeaked by in those two games by a couple of points. In the second encounter Medford came from behind by 11 points to win with only 11 minutes left in the game.

State Tournament

Offers Much Excitement

Traveling to the Oregon State High School Basketball Tournament as number one basketball team from Southern Oregon, Medford won their first game by defeating Springfield 70-51. The Tornadoes second game turned out to be a heart breaker. They lost to Parkrose by one point in the final seconds of the 56-57 game. They won their third game easily by defeating the Jefferson Democrats 64-54 and lost their fourth and final game to David Douglas 49-54. Medford placed seventh in the tournament and placed Bill Enyart and Doug Olson on the Tournament's all-star first team.

Harriers Win District;

Seventh in State

The Medford High cross country team climaxed the 1964 season with notable success. The squad, showing tremendous team effort and great consistency, ran away with the Southern Oregon conference title and claimed seventh place in the state meet. The Tornado harriers, guided by head coach Robert Huff and assisted by John Finkbeiner, came out in full force this year with the return of letterman Doug Eakin and the addition of Doug Sweet, Jim Brinson, and Otto Ryn.

The season also was side-lighted by the passage of the Olympic fund raising torch which was carried from Medford to Ashland on its journey from the U.S.-Canadian border to Los Angeles.

The Medford runners began by defeating the Crater Comets, 27-29, on October 1. The following week the Big Wind continued by defeating Ashland at their home course and reigned as champions by defeating the Grants Pass Cavemen.

Medford High School Senior Symphony

Junior Varsity Band

Plays in December Concert

Beginning the concert season for the Junior Varsity Band was the December Varsity Band Benefit. Following through the year it played for more events than any previous J.V. Band in the history of Medford High School. Among the performances were the Candidates Fair in the Fall, the Southern Oregon Music Festival April 17 in which bands all over Oregon participated, and the well known annual Spring Music Concert. Also many members played in the football and basketball pep bands for J.V. team events.

The sixty members of the band, directed by Vondis Miller, were mostly Sophomores who were originally chosen for Varsity Band Membership. Because of seniority and longer experience, preference was given to the juniors and seniors in regard to varsity ability. The fact was displayed in their playing ability and blended throughout their fine performances.

Concert Band

Participates in Varsity Benefit

Medford's Concert Band, comprising one half of the varsity band, played a dual role this year. During the football season it formed with the Senior Symphony band members the marching Band, participating in half-time activities. The remaining part of the year it transformed into a dignified concert band. Among appearances in concert form, it performed for the Southern Oregon Music Festival and ended the year with its own concert. Another performance was its participation in the December Concert to help earn money for the New Year's Day trip to San Francisco to play for the East-West Shrine game half-time ceremonies. Composing the Concert Band are mostly Sophomores and Juniors. Of these members, some participated in the Pep band while others took more interest in the student conductor program.

Sophomore Choir

Strives for Quality

Members of the Sophomore Choir are chosen at the termination of their ninth grade year when registering for high school. Acceptance for the choir depends upon the student's participation in previous years in vocal music groups. Expanding each year, the membership exceeded 80 this year.

Directed by Mr. Lynn Sjolund, the Sophomore Choir had many performances during the school year. A few of them include the regular Christmas Program, the Spring Concert, and other extra events at the Manor and at service leagues. This year many of the students participated in the musical My Fair Lady. Many helped on sets while others held actual speaking and vocal parts.

As the Sophomore choir acts as a joining group for the merging talents from the two junior highs, they prepare for entrance into the A Cappella Choir during this time.

Excels in

My Fair Lady

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Lynn Sjolund, participated in many activities this year. Before Christmas, the choir performed at both Rotary and Kiwanis luncheons and presented a program at the Manor. The traditional Christmas program was presented on December 16 and 21 with choir alumni joining in the traditional Song of Christmas. Following Christmas, the choir began work on their annual musical production which this year was My Fair Lady. The largest production ever attempted by the high school choir, the musical was completely double cast for its four night run. Proceeding into spring, the choir presented its annual Spring Concert with the other musical groups from the school. Concluding the year, they performed for the senior graduation exercises in June.

Officers and Ensembles

Activate Music Groups

Helping to unite the various music groups in the school are the officers of the different groups. The officers work together to help organize any extra activities they may participate in and also prepare for election of new officers at the end of each year. They serve as a communicant with the student body as a whole. Also the uniform managers and robarians put in long hard hours in keeping the band uniforms and choir robes in shape for each performance. Each officer of every various group maintains a good association with the instructor and other members to help keep all informed and well organized. Organization is the most important factor in the operation of any musical group.

Inter-Club Council

Centralizes Club Activities

Since its establishment in 1958, the Inter-Club Council has become a vital asset to MHS. Under the leadership of Marty Fegley, ASB Vice-President, the organization has succeeded in its purposes which were to coordinate school activities with the school calendar and act as another link between the students and the student council. Membership consists of the presidents from all the clubs and has grown as the number of new clubs increased.

At a potluck dinner with the Ashland chapter, MHS Quill and Scroll members took part in a program in which students from both schools were initiated into the international society.

Quill and Scroll

Under the direction of Mr. Vern Wolthoff, the MHS chapter of Quill and Scroll advanced to unprecedented stature during the last school year. Membership in the society is based upon scholastic achievement, journalistic ability, and creative interest as exemplified by Medford High's own student publications of Crater and Hi-Times. This year the local chapter presented its own publication, that of a literary magazine in which students poetry was compiled and sold for a small fee. Members of the organization helped to compile and publish the magazine.

Rick Lowthian, Ken Lindstrom, and Rick Maulding, members of the Radio and Electronics club, discuss the component parts of a new electronic instrument for their ham radio.

Radio and Electronics

Radio and Electronics Club, organized by a group of ambitious "Radio-Bugs" serves as a rendezvous for those students who are interested in amateur radio and electronics.

Under the direction of Mr. Jack Fink, the organization has actually constructed its own amateur radio stations. Meeting the strict requirements by the FCC rules, the main station and novice station operate. The club conducted code classes for those students interested in getting their amateur radio licenses. The activities of the club included a field trip to KMED radio and television.

Debate

Instills Leadership

Students were provided an opportunity to acquire classroom experience and actual competition with other schools through the debate course offered at MHS.

November saw twenty members chosen to travel to North Bend to participate in the South Coast Invitational Forensics tournament where they won the sweepstakes trophy.

December took them to the Pacific University speech tournament where they captured second positions in two areas of debate and two semi-final positions in other events.

In February they traveled to Linfield winning the junior division sweepstakes and receiving three firsts, two seconds, and four third prizes. The MHS squad placed fourth in grand sweepstakes.

Torch Honor Society

Excels Academically

Torch Honor Society, an affiliate of the National Honor Society, whose chief purpose is to recognize scholastic excellence had a membership of 33 members this year. In order to be a member of Torch Honor, a student must maintain a 3.5 grade point average throughout all three years of high school.

Projects of the year included an initiation in April, a homeroom skit, sponsorship of a school dance, and assisting in the distribution of caps and gowns at graduation.

President was John Casterline; secretary, Danae Patella; vice-president, Tim Watrud; and treasurer, Vic Snyder. Members included Mary Bannister, Mike Bickler, Dennis Boshears, Sharon Bross, Linda Cass, Michael Dean, Kathi Dougherty, Doug Eakin, Daren Foley, Phil Frohnmayer, Phil Gilbertson, Mike Gordon, Sue Gordon, Ruth Grant, Fred Hauptert, Ken Himes, Richard Johnston, Sharon Keene, Linda Lampman, Ben Lear, Jeff Lear, Doug Mann, Judy Miller, Joan Sexton, Cyndy Taylor, Diana Vinzant, Cathy Watson, Bob Biegand, and Mark Wilson.

As a change of pace, Torch Honor is provided entertainment by a group of wandering minstrels, Dick Thierolf, Les Bush, Tom Hampson, and Mark Wilson, promising members of future years.

Distributive Education

Teaches Business Skills

D.E.C.O., commonly known as the Tornado Merchants, is affiliated with the Distributive Education Club of Oregon. The main purpose of the club is to act as liaison between students in need of part-time jobs and local merchants in need of part time laborers. Students in the distributive education program attend school for half a day and work in a downtown business for the rest of the day. Under the direction of Mr. John Crabb, members worked in some 14 different areas of business. The State D.E.C.O is also affiliated with the national society of D.E.C.O.

Enjoy Sports

The Girls Recreation Association provided an outlet for girls to participate in such activities as volleyball, basketball, softball, gymnastics, badminton, tennis, as well as other intramural sports.

Teamwork is stressed and valuable physical activity becomes a part of each girls' daily life. Contests with similar organizations from other schools were held, under the direction of Miss Mounts, the advisor. Athletic letters were awarded to some of the members.

Thespians

Create Moods

Tom McGraw and Bruce Guenther apply makeup before going on stage for Dinny and the Witches.

January initiates into MHS Thespian troupe 358 are warmly greeted by an eloquent oratory by Karen Hugdahl, president. Other speakers are Sharon Hugdahl, Tom McGraw, Rhonda Farlan, Bruce Guenther, Julie Hoxworth, Mrs. Lenore Zapell, advisor, Jim Kerber, Diana Buckles.

Busy, busy, busy; there is never a dull moment with MHS Thespian Troupe #358 around. During the last year, under the supervision of Mrs. Lenore Zapell, two full length plays, a collection of three one-acts, and a children's play were presented.

The first play was Dinny and the Witches. It was effectively produced on December 3, 4, and 5. On January 21, 22, and 23 three one-act plays were presented in arena style in Room 63. They were: "It Should Happen To A Dog," "A Sunny Morning," and "A Phoenix Too Frequent." On April 2, and 3 the children's play, "Alice in Wonderland" was rewardingly staged before hundreds of children. At the Oregon State Thespian Conference at SOC, besides working as one of the two host Troupes, the MHS Thespians were well represented as they had several winners in various acting areas. The Spring production was "Ah! Wilderness"; it was presented on April 22, 23, and 24 in the auditorium. In all of the productions, the goals that they set before themselves were completely accomplished, making 1964-65 a year that will be remembered by all involved.

Art Students

Seek Expression

Bringing unity to the club and helpful advice to many students, Miss Catherine Fonken led the members of the Art Students League to new goals. During the past year, the Art Students League was many different things to many different students. For some it provided a means by which they might express themselves to those around them. Others sought the special satisfaction that comes from little things done by the club, such as the sponsorship of art shows through the year, or, at Christmas time, the wreaths made for the sick and aged in the community. With the capital raised from the club projects, a scholarship was provided to help further the education of a promising senior. Also, several field trips were taken to such places as the Oregon coastline, where sketching was done. Later in the year Art Students also sold senior pins.

Greg Becken, president, explains to the members of Mountaineer Club the climate and terrain of the Seven Lakes Basin as they make plans to take an extended hike.

Mountaineer Club

To further interest in hiking, camping, and other outdoor activities, the Mountaineer Club was formed under the advisorship of Mr. Milford Biddington. Members of the club took part in community service work such as offering their services to faculty members, and clean-up drives. The club went on several one-day hikes, and more extended trips to remote areas such as the Seven Lakes Basin and Lost Lake.

IRL Promotes

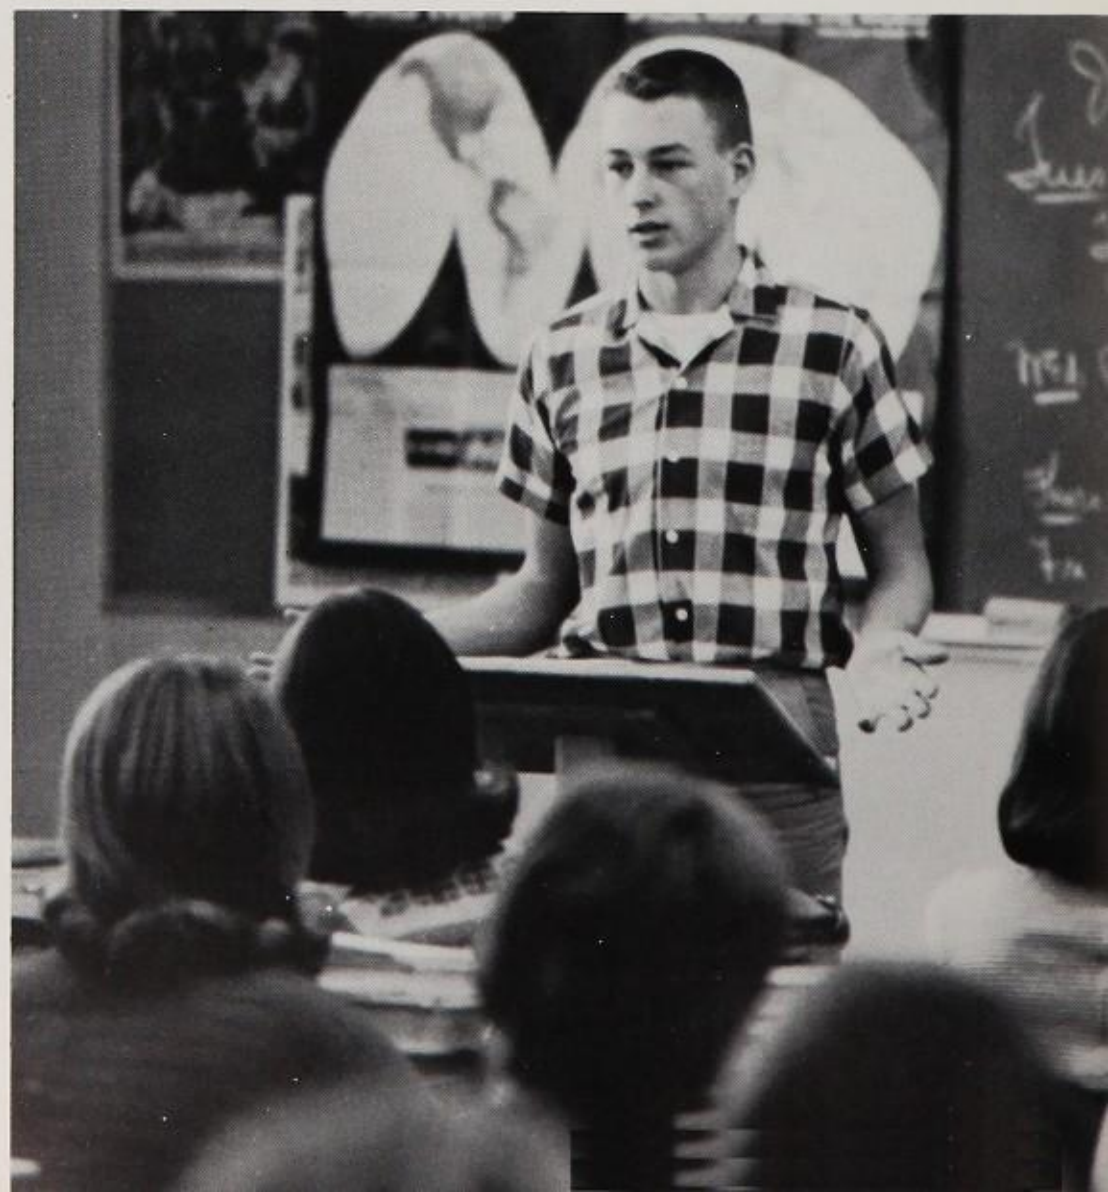

International Friendship

Enlivening interest in International Relations work, Vic Snyder, president of the club, and Mrs. JoAnn Smith, advisor, have helped to make the International Relations League one of the most popular clubs at Medford High School.

Taking part in a hilarious homeroom skit and many interesting workshops between meetings has been only a small part of the IRL work done around school. This last year the MHS chapter sent several delegates to the Oregon State convention in Eugene.

The purpose of the IRL is to enable students to become cognizant, and better acquainted with the people and customs of the various nations of the world.

Vic Snyder discusses some of the aims and purposes of IRL organizations.

The Roman banquet was again the highlight of the Latin Clubs activities. Both members and non-members were invited to the event which required the traditional apparel of toga and sandals. It might be said that apparel for the evening was unique to say the least. Slaves were recruited from McLoughlin and Hedrick Junior Highs to serve the higher classes of the MHS Romanites.

Other events during the year included movies about ancient Rome, student reports on Roman life, and records in Latin such as the play Julius Caesar. At Christmas time they sent a message composed in Latin via a Christmas card to Medford's sister city, Alba, Italy.

Affiliated with the National Classical Latin League, the main purpose of the club is to promote interest in Latin as a great literary language, and to study more about Roman Culture. This is fully accomplished as Latin Club is one of the most successful clubs around school.

Linda Beatty and Carolyn Wimberly admire the cake at the annual Candy Striper banquet.

Candy Stripers

Aiding their community as well as their school, Candystripers spent many hours each week working at Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital. Distinctive in their pink and white striped uniforms, they aided the regular hospital employees by taking care of the gift cart, entertaining the children in pediatrics, providing company for many other hospital patients, and performing many other needed tasks. Under the guidance of Mrs. Hoffbuhr, the group acts entirely as a service organization and receives no recompense for its work.

President of Candy Stripers, Linda Bailey, Kay Stevens, and Laurie Schuler deliver "knick-knack" tray to patients.

Future Medics

Helping students with their future interest in medicine is the Future Medics Club under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Anderson. The club met during the year on the regular club schedule but also had evening meetings for the purpose of hearing community speakers elaborate on different phases of medicine. All of the members hold an interest in the medical profession, either as doctors, nurses, technicians, veterinarians, therapists, and many more unnamed. By scheduling experienced medically trained persons as speakers during the year, the students broadened their knowledge and helped develop specific interest in certain fields of medicine.

Members of Future Medics clubs from Medford and other local schools listen enraptured as a professional of the field relates a few of the wonders of medical science at an evening meeting held at MHS.

Future Business Leaders

Promote Clerical Skills

Promoting business leadership at MHS, the Future Business Leaders proved to be one of the more active clubs during the 1964-65 school year.

At the close of the year they offered a full-term scholarship to one of the more outstanding members. Working toward this goal they set up many money-making operations such as selling Tornadia booster buttons, operating the student store and vending machines, and publishing the student directory. These activities both aided the scholarship fund and were beneficial to student interest.

The two advisors for the club were Mrs. Walters and Mrs. Evans, whose guiding assistance was a foundation for the workings of the club.

One of the biggest aids to students going into the teaching profession is the Future Teachers of America. The organization provided a good opportunity for students to decide if they want to become a teacher, and if they did, in what grade level they would be most successful.

Members of the MHS Future Teachers attended the November convention of the Oregon Education Association at the regional conference in Portland. At three different times during the year many students gained some actual experience through the observation day program.

The Future Teachers were responsible for the concession stands, and hot dog sales on home game nights during the Football season. In December they sponsored a sock hop in the girls gym, and organized the Sophomore Day program at the start of the school year. Each year a promising graduate is given a full-tuition scholarship with funds earned during the year's activities. At the close of the school year, all 1965 FTA activity was fulfilled with a students-parents banquet.

Busy packing gift food boxes for the state hospital, members of the FHA are shown. They are Shirley Johnson, Patty Adair, Christie Ayres, Sue Ritchey, and Shirley Jones.

Future Homemakers

Under the able direction of Mrs. Ruth Hocker-smith, the Future Homemakers offers valuable experience to students and the advancement of the practical arts.

Many aspiring homemakers enter into the organization, coming out much the better with the experience gained from the unlimited possibilities available to them through the club program. The program ties in with the regular class activities, only it is more extended and offers an outlet for homemaking talents on a state and national level.

Members of the MHS racing team are shown here before they departed for Saturday racing events at Ashland. Shown left to right they are Mr. Duane Richardson advisor, Trudy Poling, Greg Becken, Grady Brown, Spence Buffington, Riley McHugh, Caroline Schott, and Sue Boals.

Snomads

Crown '65 Snow Queen

Utilizing the resources afforded them by the further development of the Mt. Ashland ski area, the Snomads polished their skills on weekly trips to the area. Under the direction of Duane Richardson, a racing team was formed and competed in several school meets both at Mt. Ashland and at Bachelor Butte in Bend. Enthusiasm of individual skiers grew, and club spirits also mounted, as the Snomads membership exceeded any other club with 199.

High-light of the year was the 2nd annual Snow Queen contest. Terry Tibbutt was selected as this years queen by the Rogu Snowmen, the valley ski club.

Enjoying some of the wonderful skiing afforded them by the development of the Mt. Ashland Ski Area, Dennis Peebler and Trudy Poling track their way down to the bottom of the chair lift.

Fred Beyers attempts a bluff that he hopes will outwit his opponent in a game of chess.

Chess Club

Goes to State

Students searching for an air of competition find it when they become members of the Chess Club. Under the arduous supervision of Mr. Robert Werner, the Chess Club has set up many intramural tournaments during the year. These contests determine the most outstanding players who are then eligible to enter into the State tournament. This organization is open to all students who have a sincere interest in learning or improving their skill in the "Game of Kings."

Shutterbug Club

Develop Techniques

Comprised of students interested in the field of photography and film development, Shutterbug Club provided a haven for those students fitting into this category. High-lighting the year for the Shutterbugs was a talk by Paul Brainerd, Crater photographer. In the lecture, Paul recalled his experiences that occurred during his trip to Winona, Indiana. He attended special classes at the Winona Photography Institute, a professional photographers school. Through the conscientious direction of Mr. Marvin Trautman and the ambitious leadership of Ron Hale, the Shutterbugs attained eminent stature in 1965. Among the many activities that the club took an active interest in were a homeroom skit, guest speeches, and monthly meetings.

Mr. Marvin Trautman, advisor, demonstrates the versatility of a double-lens-reflex to Ron Hale and Kathy Mitchell.

Maintaining the highest of standards concerning athletic events, Order of "M" members insure a sense of good sportsmanship at all times. Membership in Order of "M" is gained only by earning a letter in a major sport. One of the duties of the group is to take charge of keeping the fields clean both before and after the games. Mr. Spiegleberg and Mr. Benson were the advisors.

Shown here during the Order of "M" homeroom skit John Yoakley (alias coach) gives a pep talk to the "Medford Mets."

The Pep Club generously radiates school spirit to boost the team's drive for victory.

Enthusiastically supporting the MHS teams during the football and basketball seasons, the Pep Club traveled throughout the state to make sure school spirits were always at a high point. Under the direction of Miss Janice Crisp, the Pep Club was always well-organized and polished in their drills and yells.

Many evenings were spent in drilling and improving the yells which led the Black Tornado to victory. During the year the Pep Club worked on posters to prompt spirit, sold Tornadia buttons, and sponsored Tornadia week.

Rally Squad

School spirit and good-sportsmanship were representative of Medford's rally squad this year. The many hours they spent perfecting dance routines and yells gave them second place in competition at rally school in Squaw Valley. Under the leadership of Teresa Riggs and Mike Barker and their adviser, Mrs. Mary Ann Smith the squad rose to new heights of enthusiasm and pep as they led MHS students' cheers for the football and basketball teams.

Mr. Riley Winchell, advisor and Sally Bratton, editor discuss the "candid image" theme and how it can be used to express student life.

Crater

Working as a team the '65 Crater staff produced the first "complete" yearbook in Medford High's history. The greatest attribute to this is the fact that this is the first large-sized yearbook that MHS has ever had.

Guiding the staff to the ever-present goal of a zenith of excellence was Mr. Riley Winchell, advisor, and Sally Bratton, editor.

This was achieved not without difficulty, for hundreds of pictures had to be taken, reams of copy written, and many page layouts sketched before the final drafts were sent to the printer. This year with the extra time allotted through the larger book, the fall delivery, and the better selection of pictures, it is not without pride that the staff presents this book to the student body.

Cathy Carlsen, exchange editor; Dan Thomas, index editor; and Jack Groves, Carol Kennedy, and Margaret Fleet (bottom) review some of the yearbooks from other schools to see if there are any new innovations that could be adapted to the Crater.

Sue Boals, sports editor; Anna Richardson, activities editor; and Terry Pitts, class editor pose so that Paul Brainerd, photographer, can snap their picture.

Mr. Vern Wolthoff, Hi-Times advisor; Danae Patella, editor; and Joan Sexton, news editor take a peek at the latest issue of Hi-Times as it has come fresh from the printer.

Hi-Times

Making the student body and faculty cognizant of events and issues going on around them, the Medford Hi-Times has succeeded in providing both news and light entertainment. Its timely editorials have even brought about several reforms in school policies.

Advised by Mr. Vern Wolthoff and edited by Danae Patella, 16 issues were published during the 1964-65 school year. At the annual Hi-Times banquet students who had contributed at least 60 inches of copy were awarded the Hi-Times pin. Several students also received two and three year pins. The Hi-Times, sent five delegates to the Oregon State Press Conference in Eugene, where they heard many notable speakers and learned new journalistic techniques.

Jack Mullen, and Jack Watson, co-editors for sports discuss the quality of a MHS baseball bat with Jon Stout and Steve Gordenier, members of the sports staff.

Lin Kretz interviews exchange student "Sing" as Anne Donahue, feature editor supervises.

Dick Thierolf, Carol Konschot, and Steve Whinihan, compare sales with business manager Penny Roach as they meet downtown.

Fred Haupt, student body president, finds hard work can be rewarding in the academic field as well as in his many extra-curricular activities. He was elected the "Outstanding Senior Boy" and received the Elk's Leadership Award.

Marty Fegley, vice-president of the associated student body, also headed the Inter-Club Council. Marty was a recipient of one of the Carpenter Foundation Scholarships.

Homeroom Program

Adopts New Objectives

A direct line of communications between the school and the student; a program of enrichment activities; wide opportunities for student participation; are some of the objectives of the Medford Senior High Homeroom Program. The modern school must inform the student on important ideas and matters regarding future plans in a complex society. A sharing of ideas helps the school keep in touch with student thinking and aids the student in fully understanding what the school requires of him.

The twenty five minute daily Homeroom period was founded in the belief that a modern education is more than just "3 R's". Provisions are made for students to engage in a wide range of activities which will allow them to develop a variety of talents. The period is used in many ways to benefit the student and make the school function more smoothly. The Homeroom Program seeks to serve the school by providing an effective tool for dealing directly with the student body in non-academic areas. It seeks to serve the student by searching for ways to train and develop youth to be better citizens, more confident and understanding adults who will have every chance for a successful and satisfying future.

John Casterline,
January Boy of Month.

Girls' and Boys' League

This was the first year that the Boys' League selected a boy of the month to go along with the tradition established by the Girls' League of choosing a girl of the month. Girls and Boys League officers helped to promote the welfare and general interest of the students by election of these people. All of the students are automatically members of either girls or boys league when they join the student body. Working together the officers sponsored the Spring formal which was held in the girls' gym.

Missing a boy for the month of October is Kathy Dougherty, October Girl of the Month with Jack Mullen and Karen Foley the November Boy and Girl of the Month.

Outstanding academically are Sue Fox and Phil Frohn-mayer the December selection for Girl and Boy of the Month.

Danae Patella,
January Girl of Month.

Chosen for the February girl and boy are Susan Plumley and Sing Maravilla.

For the month of March John Yoakley and Mechthild Reithmueller took the position of Girl and Boy of the Month.

Marty Fegley and Linda Blew who take much interest in school activities were selected as the April boy and girl.

Yell Queen Teresa Riggs and John Eads were chosen to represent May as Girl and Boy of the Month.

The month of June was represented by two choir members, Sally Bratton and Bob Haworth.

Sophomores

Merging together from two junior highs from another school, the students who form the Sophomore class meet with many conflicts and complications. Throughout the school year, basic problems are solved and individuals begin to blend with each other forming the unity and class spirit to carry them through their remaining two years at Medford Senior High.

Seniors

Reviewing their high school years, the Senior class of 1965 can look back on many exciting and rewarding experiences. The stress of education in the form of basic book knowledge, work skills, and social etiquette have led each member of the class to the termination of his high school career — years always to be remembered.

Dr. Leonard Mayfield, was born in Estacada, Oregon April 8, 1905. He graduated from Oregon City High School in 1923 and from the University of Oregon in 1929 with a bachelors degree. He continued his education in following years and received his masters and doctorate also from the University of Oregon.

Dr. Mayfield began his teaching career in Springfield in 1927. He also taught in Grants Pass, Oregon City, before coming to Medford in 1939 as principal of Medford High School. He was assistant superintendent of public schools under E. H. Hedrick in 1955 and became superintendent the following year.

Dr. Mayfield not only upheld his job as superintendent, but was also very active in civic and national organizations. He was a member of educational associations both on a state and national basis. He was also active in Rotary, Shrine, Boy Scouts, and the First Presbyterian Church.

In 1959, he made a tour of Russia under the sponsorship of the National Educators' Program.
